SIX KILLED IN TORNADO Perjury Charged In Arbuckle's Trial MURDER JURY IS COMPLETED

TWO WITNESSES ARE INDICTED

Women Accused of Falsely Testifying for Comedian

RESULT OF STATE'S PROBE

Evidence Gathered by District Attorney Brady

SAN FRANCISCO — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Minnie Neighbors of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Frances S. Bates of Chicago, who testified for the defense in the trials of Roscoe C. (Patty) Arbuckle, were indicted on perjury charges early today by the county grand jury.

Mrs. Neighbors testified at Arbuckle's trial that she saw Miss Virginia Rappe, in connection with whose death Arbuckle is accused of manslaughter, at Wheeler Hot Springs, Ventura-co., California, in August, 1921, and that Miss Rappe had suffered two spells while at the Hot Springs.

Mrs. Bates testified at the second trial of Arbuckle. She said she worked with Miss Rappe in a Chicago department store in 1913, where the film actress had been employed as a model.

BRADY CONTRADICTED
District Attorney Matthew Brady, after the grand jury session, said he had presented the jury with evidence to prove Miss Rappe was not at the springs at the time stated by Mrs. Neighbors.

Mrs. Bates testified at the second trial of Arbuckle. She said she worked with Miss Rappe in a Chicago department store in 1913, where the film actress had been employed as a model.

Brady, in a statement giving his reasons for asking the indictments, said he intended to prosecute "all persons who commit perjury."

"I consider this far more important than prosecuting persons charged with other felony," Brady said.

Early today the police said they did not know the present location of Mrs. Bates or Mrs. Neighbors.

Neither was it known when the warrants on the indictments would be issued.

NIERENGARTEN IS NEAR COLLAPSE

Panel Completed and Sworn in Tuesday Afternoon

MRS. KERSHAW UNDER STRAIN

Plot to Make Break For Liberty is Frustrated

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Impaneling of a jury in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Harold Nierengarten, of Lima, indicted for murder in the first degree, for the slaying of his pal, Joseph Scott Kershaw, also of Lima, was completed at 1:45 p. m. Tuesday and Judge Joseph D. Barnes ordered the jury sworn in, as follows:

JURY IS COMPLETE
Miss Emma Easterly, Salem-tp.
Miss Stella Wilkins, Noble-tp.
George Graessle, Salem-tp.
John J. Hauss, St. Marys.
J. T. Milnor, St. Marys.
William Bailey, St. Marys.
Bert H. DeLong, Salem-tp.
Carl H. Baldwin, Galesville.
A. H. Barber, St. Marys-tp.
F. C. Dearbaugh, Wapakoneta.
H. B. Casperson, Noble-tp.
Mrs. Maggie Brewer, Noble-tp.

TO ASK DEATH PENALTY
Prosecuting Attorney Karl Timmermeister, intending to demand the death penalty in the case of Nierengarten, was careful that no one is retained for jury service if opposed to capital punishment.

Intending to base defense on a plea of insanity, it is stated, Judge C. A. Stueve, counsel for the prisoner, was equally cautious in passing talesmen for jury service. The defense has not as yet shown its hand and will not until after the examination of witnesses opens. Witness lists are still withheld from the public by the state.

For the first time since the case opened Monday, Nierengarten, the accused, showed nervous concern during the latter part of the morning Tuesday. He became highly nervous, fidgeted about in his chair near the counsel table within the enclosure in front of the judge's bench. The smile that frequently lighted up his face Monday when talesmen became confused questions put to them, was missing Tuesday.

He appeared stoical, and apparently is beginning to realize the severity of the charge he is facing. Nierengarten is nattily attired, in a new suit and his hair is carefully trimmed and brushed back over the top of his head. He does not appear haggard, altho under severe mental strain.

Extra precautions have been taken by Sheriff George Ewing and his deputies to prevent a break for liberty by the prisoner, since the discovery was made in his cell in the county jail that Nierengarten had wrenched bars off his cot, planning to tell the sheriff, secure the officer's revolver and shoot his way to liberty.

A note written by Nierengarten to a fellow prisoner, Homer Meyers, requesting him to join with him in a break for liberty fell into the hands of the sheriff. Since the frustration of Nierengarten's murder plot, he has apparently given up hope of escape and is very much depressed.

He shows appearance of a possible breakdown under the strain. Nierengarten's brother, Leo, of Uniontown, Pa., is with him. A sister, Miss Louise Nierengarten, of Lima, and Mrs. A. G. McClintock, another sister, of Ada, is also at his side. Nierengarten's mother, of Lima, is ill and unable to be present.

Mrs. Gene Kershaw, young widow of the murdered man, is in court with Kershaw's father, F. A. Kershaw. Mrs. Kershaw was very nervous during the morning Tuesday and was required to take medicine several times to soothe her nerves.

Court was adjourned at 11:30 a. m. by Judge Joseph D. Barnes, of Sidney, presiding. The case was resumed at 1:10 p. m. Nierengarten

RICH, STARTS AS CLERK—MAKES GOOD

MARY T. SLOSS

OAKLAND, Cal. — Pretty Mary T. Sloss graduated from Stanford University an honor student. Her parents had money—plenty of it. Then Miss Sloss announced that she was going to take a job as a salesgirl in a department store. Her friends scoffed.

"What's the use of a college education if you are going behind a counter?" they asked.

"I'm going after business—access and to get it," Miss Sloss replied. So the Stanford co-ed became a salesgirl at a very modest salary. Just the other day she resigned her $5,000-a-year job as buyer for the store. She had outgrown her position and gave it up to enter business for herself, with $10,000 a year ahead.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (United Press) — Six persons were killed and between 12 and 18 injured, some seriously, here today in two disastrous explosions and fires. Four men were killed, between 12 and 14 injured, and a street car barn was wrecked in a terrific explosion of an air tank in a compressing room.

The explosion blew a 40-foot brick wall several yards into the street and terribly mangled the bodies of the victims. Fire added to the tragedy.

The dead: C. E. Legate, 18, machinist. Carl Haynes, 56, machinist. Harry Bowman, 50, machinist. Frank Baumgardner, foreman. James Coleman, 55.

A few hours previous, explosions and fire in a flat and grocery store practically wrecked the building, resulting in the death of Mrs. Iona Fry and the injury of four other persons.

Property Damage Heavy in South Carolina Disaster

40 PERSONS ARE INJURED

Wire Communication Cut and Full Loss is Unknown

AIKEN, S. C. — (United Press) — Six persons were killed and about 40 injured by a tornado and rain storm which swept the western portion of the state early today, according to reports received here this afternoon.

Six dead and 25 injured were reported at Warrenville.

Fifteen were reported injured at Stiffleton.

Property loss will run high.

Both Warrenville and Stiffleton are cotton mill towns near here. Twenty-five houses were reported destroyed at Warrenville and ten at Stiffleton.

Wire communication was demoralized.

Relief workers, carrying medical and food supplies, have been dispatched to the two towns.

Several injured, rushed here from Warrenville, are being treated in hospitals.

RIVER OVERFLOWS

MACON, Ga. — (Associated Press) — After the heaviest rain in Macon since the weather bureau was established twenty-three years ago the Ocmulgee river was out of its banks early today and the government observer was preparing to issue flood warnings for both the Ocmulgee and Oconee rivers. The rainfall from 3:45 p. m. yesterday to six o'clock this morning was 6.37 inches. The nearest approach to this record downpour was 4.81 inches, February 24-25, 1919.

BONUS FOES SEEK HARDING'S AID

President Asked to Oppose Insurance Loan Bill

PLAN IS FOUGHT BY MELLON

Will Cripple Nation's Financial System Opponents Claim

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—The soldier bonus bill was approved today by the house ways and means committee Republicans and ordered introduced this afternoon in the house.

As it went to the house, it was practically unchanged, except that no payment will be made in kind of service men dying since the war.

President Harding "stands pat" against any method of providing for a soldier bonus except from the salary taxes, it was officially announced at the White House today.

(BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Opponents of the bonus bill in congress today were seeking to have President Harding oppose the new bonus-insurance loan bill, framed after much effort by the Republicans of the house ways and means committee.

They claim the plan of having the banks loan up to 50 per cent on the proposed service men's certificates, will seriously interfere with the nation's financial system and are urging the president to send by his previous declaration that the bonus must be postponed unless paid by a sales tax.

OPPOSED BY MELLON

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, according to reliable information, is opposed to the loan features of the plan for the same reason opponents in congress advance and may present his views to President Harding.

Having failed in their efforts to have the soldier bonus bill introduced in the house by today, the Republican sub-committee, it is known, took several unsuccessful votes on alteration of the measure.

BILL CHANGED

These votes are understood to have borne on the subject of dropping options out of the measure and leaving it chiefly confined to insurance certificates with a loan value thereon and a cash payment for those whose due is not over $50.

All the votes showed a comfortable margin for keeping the bill in its present form.

The farm allotments branch was considered when the committee reconvened today. The farm clause has been altered to guard against land grabs from those outside the benefits of the bill. Now, it is written so that nobody other than an ex-serviceman can get a foot of land in the better farm tracts.

LOAN PROVISION ON BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Here is the text of the bank loan provision of the compromise soldiers' bonus bill:

(A) That a loan may be made to any veteran prior to September 30, 1925, upon his adjusted service certificate only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(B) Any national bank, or any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of any state, territory, possession or District of Columbia (hereinafter in this section called "the lender") may lend to any veteran upon his adjusted service certificate secured by his adjusted service certificate (with or without the consent of the beneficiary thereof) any amount not in excess of fifty per centum of its loan basis (as defined in sub-division F, of this section) such loan to mature on or before September 30, 1925.

The rate of interest charged on the loan by the bank shall not exceed by more than two per centum per annum the rate charged at the date of the loan for the discount of commercial paper under Section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act by the Federal Reserve Bank for the Federal Reserve district in which the bank is located.

UNPAID NOTE

(C) If the veteran does not pay the principal and interest of the loan within six months after its maturity, or in any event by September 30, 1925, the bank shall present the certificate and the note to the secretary of the treasury not earlier than May 30, 1925, and not later than October 15, 1925.

The secretary shall thereupon cancel the note and the certificate and pay to the bank the amount of the unpaid principal due it, and the unpaid interest accrued, at the rate fixed by the note, up to the date of the check issued to the bank. The difference between 50 per centum of the loan basis of the certificate at the time of its receipt by the secretary and the amount so paid to the bank shall be immediately paid by the secretary to the veteran if living. In case of the veteran's death after the expiration of the six months after the maturity of the loan or in the case of his death after September 30, 1925, such difference shall be paid to the beneficiary under the certificate, except that if such beneficiary dies before the veteran and no new beneficiary is named, or if the beneficiary instance has not yet been named, then the payment shall be made to the estate of the veteran.

DEATH PROVISION

(D) If the veteran dies before the principal is due, the amount of the unpaid principal and the unpaid interest accrued up to the date of his death, shall be immediately due and payable. In such case or if the veteran dies after the principal is due but before the expiration of the six months after the principal is due or before October 1, 1925, the bank shall upon notice of death present the certificate and note to the secretary who shall thereupon cancel the note and pay to the bank in full satisfaction of its claim the amount of the unpaid principal and interest at the rate fixed in the note, accrued up to the date of the check issued by the bank, except that if prior to the payment the bank is notified of the death by the secretary of the treasury and fails to present the certificate and note to the secretary within fifteen days after notice such interest shall be only up to the fifteenth day after such notice. The secretary shall deduct the amount so paid from the face value (as determined under Section 501) of the certificate.

LOAN IN DEFAULT

(E) When any loan is in default, the bank shall within thirty days thereafter notify the secretary of the treasury of the facts relative to the note, the name of the veteran and the number of his certificate.

(F) The loan basis of any certificate at any time shall for the purposes of this section, be the amount of the adjusted service credit, plus interest thereon from October 1, 1922 to such time, at the rate of 4-1/2 per cent per annum compounded annually.

(G) No payment upon any note shall be made under this section by the secretary of the treasury to any bank, unless the note, when presented to him, is accompanied by an affidavit made by an officer of the bank before a notary public or other officer designated for the purpose by regulations of the secretary, and stating that the bank has not charged or collected or attempted to charge or collect, directly or indirectly, any fee or other compensation (except interest as authorized by this section) in respect to or in connection with the making or the payment of any loan made under this section by the bank to a veteran. Any bank which, or director, officer or employee thereof, who does so charge, collect or attempt to charge or collect any such fee or compensation, shall be liable to the veteran for a penalty of one hundred dollars to be recovered in a civil action brought by the veteran.

NOT NEGOTIABLE

(H) The secretary of the treasury shall make regulations for the enforcement of the provisions of this section.

This safeguarding provision as to loans and certificates is contained in the bill.

"No certificate issued or right conferred under the provisions of this title shall be negotiable or assignable or serve as security for a loan other than one made under the provisions of 502 and 504 (the provisions authorizing loans by banks or the Federal government.) Any loan made in violation of any provision of this section shall be void. Whenever the secretary of the treasury finds that any such certificate or right has been negotiated or assigned or has served as security for a loan in violation of a provision of this section, the rights of the veteran under this title shall be forfeited."

After September 30, 1925, the government would loan to veterans on certificates, the amount advanced if the loan was made before October 1, 1925, being 35 per cent of the sum of (1) the adjusted service credit of the veteran figured on the basis of $1.00 a day for domestic service and $1.25 for overseas service with the maximum fixed at $625 for those who served overseas and $500 for those who did not, plus (2) interest thereon from October 1, 1922, at the rate of 4-1/2 per cent annually, compounded annually.

If the loan was made after October 1, 1925, the date of the maturity of the certificate, the amount advanced would be 70 per cent of the sum of (1) the service credit increased by 25 per cent, plus (2) interest at the rate of 4-1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually.

If a veteran defaulted for one year in his payments to the government, his certificate would be voided, but if he borrowed less than the maximum authorized by the law he would be paid 90 per cent of the difference between what he borrowed and what he was authorized by the law to borrow. If a veteran held his certificate for the full twenty years he would be paid the sum of his service credit increased by 25 per cent, plus 4-1/2 per cent interest, compounded annually.

COURT OF APPEALS TO BE MOVED TEMPORARILY TO BUCYRUS, MARCH 20

Court of appeals will be moved temporarily to Bucyrus on Monday, March 20, when judges will give the day to the hearing of matters of record in higher court in Crawford-co. Eight cases will be for consideration at that time. While all are set for 9-30 a. m., it is probable the entire day will be spent in the hearing of these suits.

The case of Julia Cunningham against Edna Cunningham and others, an Allen-co action, will be heard by the court of appeals here Thursday at 9 a. m. The cause comes up for further evidence, having been once previously argued in higher court.

The cause concerns disposition of property. Mrs. Julia Cunningham, 72, widow of the late John Cunningham, is seeking money instead of an allowance and the homestead in certain Lima property.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO HAVE NOTED SUFFRAGE WORKER AS GUEST MAR. 11

Miss Elizabeth Hauser, Guard, noted suffrage worker, will be guest of honor at a luncheon being planned by the League of Women Voters to be held Saturday at Hotel Argonne.

Mrs. Hauser was one of the first Ohio women to enter the fight for votes for women.

Plans for the coming campaign, to be launched by the league with a view to increasing membership will be made at a meeting, to be held Tuesday at 7 p. m., at the public library. Mrs. Hauser will be in attendance. The time set for the meeting is 7 o'clock.

Because of the concert arranged by the Women's Music club at 8:15, the hour of meeting of the league has been changed to 7, instead of the usual hour of 7:30.

BATH-TP FARM BUREAU PLANS TO BE ADOPTED

Plans formulated by the Allen-co Farm Bureau for the program of work for Bath-tp will probably be adopted at a meeting of the Bath-tp Farm Bureau at Blue Tick tonight. The time set for the meeting is 7 o'clock.

This is the first regular monthly meeting of that farm bureau organization to be held.

Please don't forget the Box Supper, Wednesday at 7:30 at the First United Brethren Church corner Spring and Union-sts, given by the Young Men's class. Everybody invited. Special program.

DECLARE AGAINST OUTSIDERS

Lima Contractors Opposed to Awards to Foreign Firms

STAND AFFECTS PUBLIC WORK

Declare for Open Shop and Announce Slice in Wages

Members of the Lima Contractors' association went on record at their annual meeting as opposing action of city officials in awarding public improvement contracts to outside firms, it was announced Tuesday.

"Buy in Lima," declared Ora Green, secretary, "is a slogan that should apply to contracts as well as to mercantile establishments."

AGAINST IMPORTED LABOR

Green views with apprehension the importation of outside labor to work on paying let Monday. Despite assurances by the city manager that local workers will be hired, Green fears that contractors will import labor.

"These firms have their own gangs to take care of," he said. "The association also has posted the open shop banner to the masthead for the coming building season. It was decided to adopt the policy for all construction work."

A blanket slice in wages to be paid this season, amounting to 15 per cent, was voted. All contractors agreed to stick to the scale set.

CUT IN WAGE SCALE

The scale, according to Green, is about the same that is being paid in cities of similar population.

The new wage scale, by the hour, will be:

Bricklayers, $1.00; plumbers and steamfitters, 80c; roofers and tinners, 80c; electricians, 75c; lathers and plasterers, 75c; carpenters, 60c; painters, 60c; common labor, 50c.

MARCH 20 IS NEW DATE FOR RECEIVING BIDS FOR COUNTY HIGHWAY PROGRAM

March 20 is the new date set by the state highway department for receiving bids for the construction of a four mile section of inter-county highway No. 12, known as the Eldorado, officials of the Lima Automobile club announced Tuesday.

Investigation conducted by the club showed that the letting was canceled because it was not properly advertised. It has been re-advertised and bids are to be received March 20.

Contractors are bidding on three types of construction, Kentucky rock asphalt, macadam and Willie. Automobile club officials announce the club is going to get behind the Allen-co 35-mile road program and do all in its power to assist in pushing it to completion.

Headquarters of the club are now in the Argonne Hotel.

ATHLETIC OUTFITS FOR POLICE, FIREMEN HERE

Athletic outfits for use of police and firemen, when taking their twice a week calisthenics, have arrived, and will be distributed at once.

All of the uniforms were purchased from local firms and their non-arrival, according to Manager C. A. Bingham, was caused by cause dealers here did not have sufficiently large stocks to meet the demand.

Two or three police who require No. 13 or 14 footwear, will have to exercise in the socks, until their shoes come from the factory. The suits, complete, will cost the city about $1.75 each. More than 70 police and firemen are attending gym at the "Y" to keep their muscles in proper condition.

MOTORCOP IS PAID ON BASIS OF DAYS ENGAGED

Payment for the services of N. J. Barnes, special motorcycle policeman, is made on the basis of the number of days he works, according to Manager C. A. Bingham.

Barnes drew the sum of $10 for the time he was employed during February and is now working at present, the manager said.

Manager Bingham is of the opinion that an additional mounted officer is needed, especially on Saturday and Sunday, when traffic is heavy. Barnes furnishes his own machine and pays for his own gasoline.

PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Solemn high mass, in celebration of St. Patrick's day, will be held March 17 at 8 a. m., at St. Gerard's Catholic church. This will form the principal mass of the day, although other services will be held as usual.

In the evening St. Gerard's Dramatic society will give a play in the auditorium of the church building, entitled, "One Minute," in observance of the birthday of the patron saint of Ireland. There will be a variety program, consisting of vocal and orchestral numbers and readings.

CAR IS RECOVERED

Willis-Knight auto owned by H. G. Sharpley, 111 S. Cole-st, stolen from in front of Central High school Monday night, was recovered Tuesday morning by police on E. Kibby-st. It was undamaged.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson, 349 S. Union-st, announce the birth of a daughter, at City hospital, Monday.

KING WINTER TO STAGE COMEBACK

Once more King Winter is to make a try for a comeback, according to the forecast released Tuesday.

Cloudy and colder to night, with snow flurries in the north portion of Ohio. Wednesday to be generally fair.

If you are able to find any great amount of consolation in that sort of prediction, you are welcome to it. Help yourself.

"spell" of cold weather won't hurt anything, as buds are not to the bursting point and there is very little agitation of growth of any freezing conditions.

Any amount of snow that will be visited on the earth in this section the remainder of the present season, probably will not be able to remain long.

Most everybody has forgotten the ground hog prediction of little more than a month ago. There is still ten days to go on that proposition.

CITY MANAGERS PLAN ORGANIZATION IN OHIO BINGHAM IS INTERESTED

Organization of a league of municipalities in Ohio is being promoted by heads of three cities. Managers C. A. Bingham, Lima; Kenyon Riddle, Middletown and Charles Osborn, East Cleveland, are the instigators in the movement.

Both of the latter have agreed to cooperate with the Lima manager in fostering the enterprise. The object, according to Bingham, is to form an organization of city managers in Ohio who will hold meetings two or three times a year and discuss matters of interest.

It is also proposed to take an active part in getting laws enacted by the legislature that will benefit cities of the state.

Similar organizations exist in other states, but according to the city manager, there is none in Ohio.

CONTRACTS FOR PAVING TO BE SIGNED THURSDAY; HOME LABOR REQUIREMENT

Contracts for paving seven streets are to be signed by the successful bidders Thursday according to Manager C. A. Bingham.

There is no stipulation in the contracts compelling the employment of home labor. Bingham said. He asserted, however, that he has a verbal agreement with the contractors and will compel them to state in writing that home labor will be given preference, before signing the contract.

Each concern, however, can bring the skilled men they require. This will mean the importation of about six men for each of the three companies, Bingham said.

GOVERNOR DAVIS DEFENDS ACT

Tells Gomer Citizens Dry Law is Best Enforced in Ohio

That Ohio is in the lead in enforcement of the national prohibition amendment was declaration made by Governor Harry L. Davis, speaker at the St. David's day celebration held in Gomer, Monday night.

Governor Davis was the guest of the people of Gomer who are largely of Welsh descent. He was entertained at a banquet during the early hours of the evening, speaking to a packed house at the Congregational church later in the evening.

Governor Davis paid tribute to the sterling qualities of the Welsh. He is of Welsh parents, whom he declared had been most loyal to their adopted nation.

David Lloyd George, premier of Great Britain, was also eulogized at one of the world's best known Welshmen. Much of the strength of the British Empire, in past crisis was due to his statesmanship, the governor said.

Governor Davis also praised Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state, and leading figure of the arms conference.

The chief executive closed his address with a defense of his administrative acts, and gave credit to himself for enforcing the 18th amendment in Ohio.

Records show the law is better enforced here than in other states, Davis said.

ARMS CONFERENCE FAILS TO SOLVE EAST PROBLEM, Y. M. C. A. MAN DECLARES

That the far eastern situation has not been clarified by the Washington conference for limitation of armaments was the opinion expressed by Arthur Rugh, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., speaking at the Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday.

Rugh has spent 17 years in China and is well acquainted with conditions in the Celestial Kingdom.

Altho honest in business and his daily life, Rugh said that the Chinese is a rogue in politics.

"He has his price," he said, "and the sky is the limit."

Rugh believes that the conference left things undone that will continue to menace the peace of the far east.

"The Normandy Singers," a professional quartette, of which Walter Grubb was formerly a member, sang several pleasing selections.

DINNER TONIGHT AT "Y" TO HONOR ARTHUR RUGH

From present indications, a large number will hear Arthur Rugh of Shanghai, China, in his talk in the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 to night, Louis C. Bradshaw, general secretary of the "Y" said.

Rugh will speak, among other things, of the Washington conference in its relation to China. This man, who has been engaged in "Y" work in China extensively, is a graduate of Wittenberg college. He also took post graduate work at Oberlin, so is really an Ohio man.

A dinner will precede the address.

NEW HOME TRUSTEES INSPECT PROPERTY

Newly-named trustees of the Allen-co Children's home met at the home Tuesday, at which time inspection of the building and grounds was made.

The board had planned reorganization, but owing to the absence of Thomas Grubb, Delphos, that matter will probably be held over.

New members include Clarence Breece, Shawnee-tp; W. C. Brenne-man, Lima and Thomas Grubb, Delphos. Mrs. C. C. Kitts, Lima, is the other member of the board.

DEFENDANT WINS SUIT

Upon motion of attorneys for the Buckeye Pipe Line Company, defendant in the trial in common pleas court Tuesday, in which Aldo V. Sibert sought to collect $235 for damages to an automobile, Judge Becker ordered the jury to return a verdict of no cause of action. This came after Sibert had presented his case.

PARTITION ASKED

Winifred Gearing instituted action in common pleas court Tuesday against Jacob Lefel and others, for partition of 20 acres of land in Amanda-tp. Mrs. Gearing owns one-half and Jacob Lefel the remaining undivided half of the land. The petition asks the property be sold and the proceeds divided.

HUNDREDS IN COURT ROOM Three hundred and fifty persons crowded into the court room. There were many women among them. Some came as early as 8 a. m., and a half before court opened Tuesday. Many held their places in the court room over the noon recess, having brought their lunch. Others failed to secure lunch. Many farmers are among the spectators, coming from long distances.

Levity among the spectators drew the attention of the court several times. Women laughed occasionally, failing to take the situation seriously. Laughter was provoked where talesmen professed their ignorance of what the term "capital punishment" means.

TAXING POWER OF U. S. TESTED

Future Trading Act Carried to the Supreme Court

CHILD LABOR LAW ALSO HIT

Cases Raise One of Most Vital Constitutional Questions

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The constitutional extent of the taxing power of the government is at issue in the Supreme Court in an attack brought by eight members of the Chicago Board of Trade upon the Future Trading Act. The case, with three others involving the Child Labor law, presents, from the viewpoint of the government, one of the most vital constitutional questions to reach the court in recent years.

The government won the Future Trading case in the United States District Court at Chicago before Judge Landis, but lost in the Child Labor cases in the lower Federal courts in North Carolina. The two acts bring before the Court, on somewhat different facts, substantially similar questions. Opponents challenged the right of the Federal government to exercise its taxing power, to accomplish by what they term "subterfuge" regulatory control of matters within the police jurisdiction of the State. The government contended that the Future Trading Act imposed an excise tax which Congress, under the Constitution, is authorized to lay and collect not only "to pay the debts and provide for the common defense," but also for the "general welfare of the United States."

FUTURE DELIVERY
Contracts for the "future" delivery of grain amounts in some years, the government in the amounts before the Supreme Court asserted, to more than 20,000,000,000 bushels, or three times the quantity of grain produced in all countries within the amount of grain actually changing hands in Chicago, where five-sixths of the "future" trading is done, being a small fraction of one percent of the total.

"Future" transactions in Chicago in 1919 amount to was stated to 31 times the amount of wheat produced in the United States.

The Future Trading Act imposes among other provisions a tax of twenty cents a bushel upon all transactions known as "pools" and "calls" wherever made, the object being to prohibit such trading and a similar tax upon all contracts for "future" deliveries except those made upon a "contract" market or by the owner or grower of grain. Certain administrative provisions for the keeping of records and the making of reports are, and for governmental supervision are, also embodied in the law. Designated grain centers, to become "contract" markets, must, among other conditions, admit to membership representatives of agricultural cooperative associations.

TAXING POWER

The government in defending the act took the position that the only constitutional limitation upon the power of Congress to levy excise taxes is their uniform distribution geographically, Congress being free to select the subject for taxation. Congress may use the taxing power, the government further contended, for social, economic, and moral purposes. The purpose of the tax levied in the act in question as explained by the government, was to correct grain marketing evils such as manipulation by large operators, promiscuous and unrestricted speculation in foodstuffs, dissemination of false crop information, resulting in "pans" and "calls," and other arbitrary interference with the law of supply and demand. It was NOT a punitive law the Solicitor General asserted, imposing a tax to enforce regulatory measure which Congress could NOT legally control by fine and imprisonment, but was intended to terminate what he called "wild orgies" upon grain exchanges.

IN FILING INCOME TAX RETURN, A GOOD MEMORY WILL SAVE YOU BIG MONEY

A good memory may save Lima taxpayers $1,000 fine and 25 per cent of their total income tax, is the advice given by John C. Marsh, Deputy Tax Collector of Internal Revenue.

That is the penalty for failure to make a return as required by law. For making false return, the penalty is even more severe, according to Marsh. The person so doing may be fined not to exceed $10,000, or be imprisoned not to exceed one year or both. The matter is left to the discretion of the court. In addition, 50 per cent of tax evaded must be paid.

Persons who fail to pay the tax when due, or understate the amount of tax, must pay a penalty of five per cent of the tax due and unpaid, plus interest at the rate of one per cent per month during the period it remains unpaid.

Deputy Marsh succeeds Peter Herr, Bluffton, resigned. He is being assisted at present by E. S. Evans, from the Cleveland office.

SHERIFF APPOINTED
COLUMBUS—H. H. Shiner, for 18 years secretary of the old board of state charities, has accepted appointment as superintendent of the Home for Aged of the Reformed Church of the United States, at Upper Sandusky.

TRENTON, N. J. — By vote of 12 to 4, the New Jersey senate ratified the 18th amendment to the federal constitution. Three Republicans and one Democrat voted against ratification.

BIG INCOMES NOT FROM RICH ZONES

Interesting Information Given on Tax Returns

ALASKA TAKES THE LEAD

Southern States Are Far Down the List

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Interesting bits of information relating to American incomes is included in the Treasury Department's report covering returns for the calendar year 1919, which has just been made public.

Contrary to popular opinion, the largest percentage of returns according to population was not from the wealthy industrial centers but from Alaska and the District of Columbia. The territory's showing—17.17 per cent—was explained by the number of individuals operating their own business, while that of the District of Columbia 13.40 per cent—was believed to have resulted from the high ratio of government employees with salaries of more than $1,000 a year.

NEW YORK TIMES
The southern agricultural states invariably were far down the list Mississippi citizens making returns comprising only 1.32 per cent of the total population; North Carolina 1.45 per cent, and Alabama 1.74. New York led in total returns with more than 5,000,000.

An analysis made by the treasury of the sources of incomes showed that those in the $1,000—$2,000 class obtained 77 per cent of their personal revenue from wages and salaries, 3.8 per cent from rents and royalties, 1.4 per cent from dividends and 4.7 per cent from interest on investments. This was contrasted with the taxpayer with an income of one million dollars who drew only 1.34 per cent from salaries, 23 per cent from partnerships, 11 per cent from sale of real estate, stocks, etc. 6 per cent from rents and royalties, 38 per cent from dividends and 11 per cent from interest on investments.

Deduction permitted by the government also showed a wide variance amounting to 7.47 per cent for incomes between $1,000 and $2,000 and 20.43 per cent for income of $2,000,000 and over.

Agriculture and related industries comprised more than 31 per cent of those making returns. "Trade" 26 per cent and public service 22.

WAUKEGAN, ILL. — Trial of Governor Lem Small on charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds was postponed until April 3.

A Remarkable Home Treatment

Given by One Who Had It

In the year of 1893 I was afflicted with Rheumatism and Subacute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried every remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden. Some of them were over thirty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable heat-treatment. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of most forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it. I want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? If you are not satisfied, I will offer you free. Don't delay. Write Mark H. Jackson, No. 714 H. ## TAXING POWER OF U. S. TESTED

CHILD LABOR LAW ALSO HIT

Cases Raise One of Most Vital Constitutional Questions

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The constitutional extent of the taxing power of the government is at issue in the Supreme Court in an attack brought by eight members of the Chicago Board of Trade upon the Future Trading Act. The case, with three others involving the Child Labor law, presents, from the viewpoint of the government, one of the most vital constitutional questions to reach the court in recent years.

The government won the Future Trading case in the United States District Court at Chicago before Judge Landis, but lost in the Child Labor cases in the lower Federal courts in North Carolina. The two acts bring before the court, on somewhat different facts, substantially similar contentions. Opponents challenged the right of the Federal government, in the exercise of its taxing power, to accomplish by what they term "subterfuge" regulatory control of matters within the police jurisdiction of the State. The government contended that the Future Trading act imposed an excise tax, which Congress, under the constitution, is authorized to lay and collect not only to pay the debts and provide for the common defense, but also for the "general welfare of the United States."

Contracts for the "future" delivery of grain amounts in some years, the government in the arguments before the Supreme Court asserted, to move more than 20,000,000 bushels, or three times the quantity of grain produced in all countries although the amount of grain actually changing hands in Chicago, where five-sixths of the "future" trading is done, being a small fraction of one percent of the total. "Future" transactions in Chicago in 1919 amounted to less than 50 times the amount of wheat produced in the United States.

The Future Trading Act imposes among other provisions a tax of twenty cents a bushel upon all transactions known as "puts" and "calls" wherever made, the object being to prohibit such trading and a similar tax upon all contracts for "future" deliveries except those made upon a "contract" market or by the owner or grower of grain. Certain administrative provisions for the keeping of records and the making of reports, and for governmental supervision are also embodied in the law. Designated grain centers, to become "contract" markets, must, among other conditions, admit to membership representatives of agricultural cooperative associations.

TAXING POWER

The government in defending the act took the position that the only constitutional limitation upon the power of Congress to levy excise taxes is their uniform distribution geographically, Congress being free to select the subject for taxation. Congress may use the taxing power, the government further contended, for social, economic, and moral purposes. The purpose of the tax levied in the act in question as expiated by the government, was to correct grain marketing evils such as manipulation by large operators, promiscuous and unrestricted speculation in food-stuffs, dissemination of false crop information, gambling in "puts" and "calls", and other arbitrary interference with the law of supply and demand. It was NOT a punitive law the Solicitor General asserted, imposing a tax to enforce regulatory measure which Congress could NOT legally control by fine and imprisonment, but was intended to terminate what he called "wild orgies" upon grain exchanges.

A good memory may save Lima taxpayers $1,000 fine and 25 per cent of their total income tax, is the advice given by John C. Marsh, Lafayette county deputy tax collector of internal revenue.

That is the penalty for failure to make a return as required by law. For making false return, the penalty is even more severe, according to Marsh. The person so doing may be fined not to exceed $10,000, or be imprisoned not to exceed one year or both. The matter is left to the discretion of the court. "In addition, 50 per cent of tax evaded must be paid."

Persons who fail to pay the tax when due, or understate the amount of tax, must pay a penalty of five per cent of the tax due and unpaid, plus interest at the rate of one per cent per month during the period it remains unpaid.

Deputy Marsh succeeds Peter Herr, Bluffton, resigned. He is being assisted at present by E. S. Evans, from the Cleveland office.

SHIRER APPOINTED
COLUMBUS—H. H. Shiver, for 18 years secretary of the old board of state charities, has accepted appointment as superintendent of the Home for Aged of the Reformed Church of the United States, at Upper Sandusky.

TRENTON, N. J. — By vote of 12 to 4, the New Jersey senate ratified the 12th amendment to the federal constitution. Three Republicans and one Democrat voted against ratification.

BIG INCOMES NOT FROM RICH ZONES

Interesting Information Given on Tax Returns

ALASKA TAKES THE LEAD

Southern States Are Far Down the List

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Interesting bits of information relating to American incomes is included in the Treasury Department's report covering returns for the calendar year 1919, which has just been made public.

Contrary to popular opinion, the largest percentage of returns according to population was not from the wealthy industrial centers but from Alaska and the District of Columbia. The territory's showing—17.17 per cent—was explained by the number of individuals operating their own business, while that of the District of Columbia 13.40 per cent—was believed to have resulted from the high ratio of government employes with salaries of more than $1,000 a year.

NEW YORK TOTAL
The southern agricultural states invariably were far down the list. Mississippi citizens making returns comprising only 1.33 per cent of the total population; North Carolina 1.45 per cent; and Alabama 1.74. New York led in total returns with more than 5,000,000.

An analysis made by the treasury of the sources of incomes showed that those in the $1,000—$2,000 class obtained 77 per cent of their personal revenue from wages and salaries, 2.8 per cent from rents and royalties, 1.4 per cent from dividends and 4.7 from interest on investments. This was contrasted with the taxpayer with an income of one million dollars who drew only 1.34 per cent from salaries, 23 per cent from partnerships, 11 per cent from sale of real estate, stocks, etc., 6 per cent from rents and royalties, 38 per cent from dividends and 11 per cent from interest on investments.

Deduction permitted by the government also showed a wide variance amounting to 7.47 per cent for incomes between $1,000 and $2,000 and 20.43 per cent for income of $2,000,000 and over.

Agriculture and related industries comprised more than 21 per cent of those making returns, "trade" 26 per cent and public service 22.

WAKEFAN, III. — Trial of Governor Lem Small on charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds was postponed until April 3.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It
In the year of 1893 I was attacked by muscular and sub-acute rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried many remedies, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pleasant one, that I have never returned. I have given it to many who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, and some of them seventy to eighty years of age, and the results were the same as in my own case.
I went every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute rheumatism, to the joints, to the muscles, to the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you get it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, but I understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Write for my latest booklet, "What do men want?"

"EVANGELIST JIM"—Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion fighter of the world, has turned evangelist. Here he is on his arm at Burbank, Cal., holding one of his calves—a fatted calf, as it were.

"RACE-TRACK TOM"—Tom Sharkey, once contender for Jeffries' title, is now following the races. Here he is at the track at Tijuana, Mexico, watching one of his string of horses in a try-out.

"COLLEGIATE BOW"—The flapper's sport shoe now laces down with the bow at the bottom. Very clever, but it requires half an hour to fix a pair this way.

LOSING NO TIME—"Bob" McAlister, 22, demon speed cop and holder of four world sprinting records, keeps in training by running to his work every morning. He is a detective on the New York police force.

FILING TAX RETURNS

CITIZENS of the United States are just now facing an annual duty—filing reports for the payment of income tax. The time for performing that duty as required by law is drawing to a close. The penalty for failure to do so, or for making a wrongful report, is severe.

The government, thru its various agencies, possesses the means of ascertaining facts that many persons perhaps feel are hidden from the gaze of others. Making a false return or failing to file a report, is a risky thing. A fine not exceeding $10,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment or both and in addition 50 per cent of the tax evaded, is the penalty for making a false or fraudulent return. For failing to make return on time—on or before March 15—not more than $1,000 and in addition 25 per cent of the total tax as a fine. For failing to pay tax when due, or understatement of tax thru negligence, five per cent of the tax due but unpaid, plus interest at the rate of one per cent per month during the period in which it remains unpaid.

That, in brief, is what is faced by those who are required under the law to pay income tax. Those whose gross income for the taxable period of 1921 amounted to $5,000, or whose net income amounted to $1,000 in the case of a single person or $2,000 if married, must file a return, even tho no tax is due. There should be no question in anyone's mind as to their duty under the income tax law. In case of doubt, it is a safe plan to consult the deputy internal revenue collector.

In Allen-co this representative of the government may be found in the federal building, at High and Elizabeth-sts, second floor. You have only until March 15 to discharge your duty as a citizen. Better play it safe, make your return on time, obey the requirements of the law and thus ease your conscience and avoid the possibility of trouble if you fail and are found out.

The penalty of citizenship is the performance of duty. The wise do not seek to evade it.

CORPORATIONS INCREASE

THERE was once a time—but it did not long continue—when the word corporation was hated by the average citizen as one fears a rattlesnake. The word used to be popularly associated with a band of gougers, a collection of men who were banded together for the purpose of squeezing the souls out of others.

Unfortunately, there were many such combinations that merited all the hatred men felt for them, but their numbers are fewer today than formerly. They are the victims of the changing order of things. There are no fewer corporations, but they are conducted differently. In fact, there are even more combinations than in the past, but the methods surrounding their conduct are revised.

Therefore, when one reads that corporations in Ohio are on the increase, the information does not strike terror to hearts or arouse the antagonism among others that such a mere announcement would have made years ago, before malefactors of great wealth were tamed. Domestic corporations doing business in Ohio in 1921 showed an increase of nearly 2,000 over the previous year, according to figures given out by the state tax commission. Lima contributed a large number to the total.

New corporations certified by the secretary of state during the past year totaled 3,790. Foreign corporations organized under the laws of other states, to do business in Ohio, totaled 1,554. The commission has returns from 1,104 public utilities and the excise tax on these companies amounted to $7,382,964, levied on gross receipts and earnings. The amount of franchise tax paid to the state last year by the 19,057 domestic corporations was $4,842,585. Foreign corporations paid to this state fees aggregating $1,489,295, an increase of a quarter of a million dollars for one year.

Combination of capital finds its best results by very reason of organization and unity. There is an old saying that "it takes money to make money." That is the reason for combinations. Conducted properly they are desirable; improperly, an avenging law camps on the trail of the guilty.

GENEROUS

THE Red Cross figures that Americans have given $256,375,000 to relieve war distress in 15 European countries.

Cynics, with acid temperaments, comment that this is only $2.50 for each of us. A liberal estimate.

However, it is equivalent to 500,000 men donating the entire fruits of their labor for a whole year.

That isn't bad, considering the libels about Americans being selfish. It'd be a very cold day in August before other nations would do as much for us.

PALM BEACH.

At the Royal Poinciana you will find Folks of every style, variety and kind,
From society's "big-timers"
To a raft of social climbers
And a lot of people sportively inclined;

There are tennis stars and movie
Stars as well,
There are victims of the golfer's ruling spell,
Show-girls, gamblers, politicians—
Girls on matrimonial missions.
You will meet them in this glittering hotel.

It is full of women marvelously dressed
And each woman gazes sharply at the rest.

With a look that says, "I see here Such a bunch that shouldn't be here,
Don't you think the middle-class should be suppressed?"

There a time is fixed for everything you do,
For your bathing, tea-ing, dancing,
golfing, too,
But they'll let you ride a bike
At most any hour you like—Tho you have to dress for dinner
when you're thru.

Yes Palm Beach is most indubitably
smart,
And the way they get your money is an art.
For at Bradley's white Casino
You can play roulette and keno*
Which will leave you little cash
when you depart.

Still, the Pains are very splendid in their way,
And the Beach is just as lovely as they say,
And its joys are quite extensive—
And exceedingly expensive,
Which is why I only lingered for a day.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

FOOD VALUE OF POTATOES

The potato holds first place in the vegetable class. It is important first because of its high starch content.

So important is starch as an article of food that Dr. Wiley estimates that the people of this country eat 25,000,000,000 pounds every year, an average of 250 pounds for each of us.

Another strong point in favor of this vegetable is that it contains a comparatively high amount of mineral salts. It is particularly rich in potassium salts and iron, whereas, in common with most other vegetables, the content of sodium chlo-ride, common table salt, is low.

Salt is the only form of mineral matter that needs to be added to the average mixed diet, as the rest of the much-needed minerals are present in proper amount if we eat the right quantity of proper foods.

Every adult needs at least a third of an ounce of salt daily, but the average mixed diet contains nearly this much if properly seasoned. No matter how much mineral matter we eat in the form of vegetables, there is little danger of changing the normal composition of the important fluids or tissues of the body by such means, since excess mineral matter is eliminated. However, there is always the danger of eating too little mineral matter.

The paring of potatoes in the careless manner so often done causes a loss of the food substances of the vegetable. The skin of the potato has in itself a definite food value, and if the potato be baked the skin possesses an appetizing flavor.

The practice of adding milk and butter to mashed potatoes is a good one, cause potatoes are low in protein and fat.

There is evidence to show that frying a potato raises its fuel value, so that it contains over 30 per cent of fat, whereas in its original state it contained only one-tenth of one per cent.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats all the rest.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap, but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.
Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way it tastes good, keeps perfectly,
and lasts a family a long time.
It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known to the world over for its healing effect on membranes.
Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions and lasting guarantee." Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

CITY COMMISSION BREAKS IN VOTE

Cunningham Balks on Salary Ordinance Submitted

WANTS TIME TO INVESTIGATE

Measure Affects Employees in Engineer's Office

For the first time since the commission-manager form of government became effective January 1, a member kicked over the traces Monday night and refused to follow recommendations made by the city manager on an amendment to an ordinance standardizing salaries.

Harold Cunningham, president of the commission, refused to vote on the measure.

"I am not voting on this matter," Cunningham explained, "because I want to look into it a little."

Four other commissioners voted for the amendment, making it a part of the salary ordinance. Cunningham's break was the first time any recommendation made by the manager has been questioned.

The amendment will have the effect of creating several new jobs in the engineering department and fixing the pay by the year, instead of so much per day. All who will benefit are new members of the department.

Manager Bingham said he had endeavored to get rid of some of the employees in the engineer's staff, but that it was found impossible to do without them.

Manager Bingham in a report read to the commission, asked that legislation be prepared for a $194,000 bond issue to defray cost of laying new water mains in accordance with recommendations made by Engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who visited Lima last year.

THE REPORT OF THE BOARD CONCERNED existing mains as too small, hence for new mains Bingham is recommending use of larger pipe and more hydrants.

The new mains will require 900 feet of 20 inch main; 1410 feet of 16-inch pipe; 20,000 feet of 12-inch pipe; 12,600 feet of 10-inch pipe; 3,500 feet of 8-inch pipe, 33,000 feet of six inch pipe and 2,800 feet of four inch pipe, according to figures submitted.

The recommendations were adopted.

The commission also passed a block of ordinances, authorizing the issuance of $32,000 worth of bonds to replace short time notes issued to finance paving and sewer work in ten streets and alleys.

BUILDING CODE BARS WOODEN SHINGLES FROM FIRE LIMITS OF CITY

Common belief held by business men and property owners who appeared before the building code committee of the Chamber of Commerce, that the business section is spreading west in Market-st, induced the committee to extend proposed fire limits.

The extension was made to include all territory west of Pierce-st, east of Market-st and between the first alley south of Market and the first alley north of High-st.

Chief John M. Wick waged a losing fight before the committee to retain the section prohibiting use of wooden shingles. He said that 41 out of 49 fires in January and 17 out of 26 in February were roof fires.

Despite the chief's warning, however, the committee changed the section so as to permit use of wood shingles outside the fire limits.

It may take the committee three months to complete hearings on the code, Peter Hulsken, chairman, declared.

The next meeting of the committee will be with members of the city commission.

FARM BUREAU AND C. C. TO UNITE IN PLANS FOR PROPERTY REAPPRAISAL

A committee from the Allen-co farm bureau is to be appointed to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce committee on the question of reappraisal of property in Ohio.

The first meeting of the committee will be held in the farm bureau office Saturday and a chairman selected.

Tuesday, H. J. Ridge, Allen-co agricultural agent conferred with J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Johnson urged that the new farm bureau committee accompany John W. Roby to Columbus March 20. Representatives of real estate boards, chambers of commerce, grange and allied interests will be there to adjust Ohio's tax problem.

Sessions will be held in the Columbus Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

DEMAND MADE THAT LOCAL MEN BE EMPLOYED WHEN LIMA STREETS ARE PAVED

The Chamber of Commerce will bring every influence to bear on contractors who are awarded the paving on seven streets Monday, to employ only Lima men, Manager J. Kennard Johnson announced Tuesday.

Letters making this request were sent to heads of the Federal Asphalt Paving Co. and Andrews Asphalt Paving Co., Hamilton. The two concerns secured paving on six streets, amounting to $87,234.22.

The Federal company will receive $50,092.84 for work on four streets and Andrews $37,141.38 for two streets. J. J. Johnson, former Toledo and Napoleon contractor, will pave Jamison-ave with brick, for $5,371.49. He has assured the Lima Chamber of Commerce that he will employ Lima labor. Total cost of the paving is $92,605.71, or some $37,000 less than the engineers' estimate.

COUNTY FARM AGENT IS PLANNING CAMPAIGN FOR TOWNSHIP ORGANIZATIONS

YOUNGEST BOOTLEGGER IN THE WORLD FOUND

DAVENPORT, Iowa. — The world's youngest bootlegger has been found. He is Marion Abney, five years old. Gladys Berry, six-year-old girl playmate of the Abney boy, came home yesterday, under the influence of liquor. And just like the grown-ups, she endeavored to protect the source of supply when confronted by her parents. She said she had secured the drugs at a jewelry shop in the neighborhood.

D. T. Jones, the proprietor of the shop was arrested on information filed by the girl's father. In court today Marion Abney was the star witness and his testimony cleared the jeweler.

"I gave Gladys two glasses of wine when mamma was away and she drank it all," testified the five year old lad.

LAFAYETTE GIRL IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Miss Edith Mumaugh, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow K. Mumaugh, Lafayette, died at the home of her parents, Tuesday at 4:30 a. m., after an illness of two weeks from pneumonia. She was born in Lafayette.

Miss Mumaugh was a telephone operator. Besides the parents, she is survived by two brothers, Virgil and Robert Mumaugh, both of Lafayette and four sisters, Mrs. Earl Hawk, Lafayette; Mrs. Fred Hauss, Lima; Misses Nellida and Leota Mumaugh, both residing at the family home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawk, Lafayette.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

COUNTY PROSECUTOR PUTS KIBOSH ON SLOT MACHINES

Slot machines cannot flourish in Lima. Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott says so.

A letter received from Chicago, by Lippincott, tried to pave the way for the introduction of machines here. The Windy City firm seeks an attorney to do "confidential work" in Lima. The letter quite frankly states that the company is operating a string of slot machines.

Accompanying the letter was a package of cents. "It looks to me," said Lippincott, "like the company meant to say, 'Name your attorney and let us proceed with our slot machines.' My reply will give the inquiring company to understand there'll be nothing doing."

Gene returned the package of mints to the Chicago firm.

If Stomach is Out of Order —"Diapepsin"

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.—Adv.

GANG FIRES BANK

Robbery at Carlisle, Pa., Foiled—Records Burned

CARLISLE, Pa. — (Associated Press) — Burglars early today tried to rob the vault of the First National Bank of Mount Holy Springs, six miles from here but obtained no money, as far as is known. The bank, however, lost all its records for sixteen years, including the current ledgers thru fire started by an acetylene torch.

The banking room was badly damaged but the building was saved by the local fire company.

The attempt to rob the bank was made about five a. m. by two or three men, it is believed. Entrance was gained to the bank thru a back window. The vault doors show evidence of the use of a torch. These were opened, but the section where the money and securities are kept, withstood the attack of the robbers.

Whether the vault was set on fire by design or accident is not known, but all the records and valuable documents stored in the part of the vault where the thieves managed to enter were destroyed.

SMOOT AND BURTON ELIGIBLE FOR BOARD

WASHINGTON — Senator Smoot, Utah, and representative Burton, Ohio, are eligible to serve as members of the foreign debt refunding commission, Attorney General Daugherty said today in giving what he termed his "curbsome opinion."

Daugherty said he had not given the question close study, but from his knowledge of the constitutional limitations involved in this case, he believed Smoot and Burton can serve.

A senate judiciary sub-committee held the two were ineligible.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CLUB AND SOCIETY EVENTS SHE FOUND SUCCESS IN THE WORLD'S SMALLEST STORE

Mrs. ANN DAWSON AND HER SWEETS KITCHEN

BY BOB DORMAN

NEW YORK—The smallest store in the world—2 1/2 feet wide; 5 feet long.

Just about the size of a small kitchen table.

It's a candy store in Amsterdam-av. New York.

Mrs. Ann Dawson, a widow with a 10-year-old daughter, owns it.

A year ago Mrs. Dawson, whose home was in San Francisco, landed in New York, practically penniless.

Her only assets were $40, considerable courage, and her ability to make candy, jelly and cake.

She bought an electric stove, and in her one small room made candy which she sold to neighbors. It was better candy than the stores sold; tasted home-like.

Her fame spread and she decided to branch out. The little store in Amsterdam-av was the result.

Through its shining window, customers peep out.

Because of the Woman's Music concert at Memorial Hall Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock, the meeting of the League of Women Voters and the Legislative committee of the Federated clubs, which was to have convened at 7:30 p. m., will be held instead at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Isiah Shaw, of Wapakoneta, is spending several days with her daughters, Mrs. William Howell and Mrs. Clifford Shaw, of this city.

A pleasant surprise was arranged Saturday evening in honor of Miss Mildred Rudy, who celebrated her 16th birthday anniversary. The guests gathered at the home of Miss Rudy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nelson, of the Bowman-rd, for the occasion.

Those present included Misses Lillian Rankin, Lois Stevenson, Beatrice Brethlinger, Georgia Reynolds, Mildred Rudy, Messrs. Ray Manhart, Waldo Masters, Wilford Rankin, Everett McDonel and Dwight McDonel.

Miss Elva McGinnis, of E. North-st., entertained the members of the Jolly Ten Embroidery club at her home last Friday evening. Music and needlework were the diversions and at a late hour a delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Anderson.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening at the home of Miss Rose Kemmlis, of E. North-st.

filled with jellies and jams.

A small electric stove with a gleaming pan filled with a bubbling liquid rests on a shelf. On a small round table in front of the window, candy is being kneaded.

You knock on the window and the upper half is dropped. A smiling face asks your wishes as to cookies, candy or jam.

Twice a day a little girl, clad in blue overalls, leaves the store with a market basket.

That is Betty, Mrs. Dawson's little daughter. Many of the customers phone in their wants, and Betty is delivery boy.

"It was rather hard at first," says Mrs. Dawson. "But people like home-made things, and business soon picked up."

"Now I am thinking of opening another store farther downtown. But it's not going to be so big that I can't make all the things myself."

The Wisteria club will meet with Mrs. Frank Butts, of 907 Richlie-av., Thursday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Lee Robinson, 239 S. Collett-st., will welcome the members of the Elizabeth Circle of Market-st. Presbyterian church at her home Thursday at 4 p. m.

Mrs. John Hay, of Wapakoneta, was the guest of her daughters, Mrs. Fred McClintock and Mrs. Robert Connolly, of this city, over Sunday.

Miss Catherine Schaefer, of W. Market-st., was hostess to the members of her bridge club, Monday evening. At the conclusion of the playing with Miss Hope Hollister holding high score, the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Mrs. Seward Folsom was the only guest.

The next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Miss Hope Hollister, of S. Pierce-st.

Miss Julia Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Taylor, of Toledo and Carl H. Neville, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Neville, of S. Metcalf-st., will be united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Toledo. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, at which only the members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends will be in attendance.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM a young girl of 19 and am engaged to a very fine young man or was until a few days ago. I have been talking for some time about bobbing my hair. One of the reasons for bobbing is that my hair needs some attention because of split ends and it is very thin. My young man said to me, as he is in the army, I did so he would consider things all off. Last week I had my hair cut. It is so thin that I have broken my engagement. I am a heart-broken girl, but I feel that if his love is so brittle as that, I am fortunate in finding it out. Have I done the right thing?

DISCOURAGED.

YES, I think your actions were right. Your fiancé was very rude and ungentlemanly to show his temper and become enraged at such a thing. If you had had your hair bobbed simply to spite him, so to speak, that would have been very different. However, since you did it to benefit your hair, you were justified in doing what you thought best.

Most probably your fiancé will soon come to a realization of how inconsiderate and insolent he has been. It is ridiculous for him to have shown such a contemptible attitude. No man has a right to dominate a girl and tell her what she shall and what she shall not do. If your fiancé's love for you is sincere and unselfish, he will return to you and offer an apology for his hasty and curt remarks. Above all things, tho, let him be the one who asks for reconciliation.

Dear Miss Smart:

I have been reading your column in The Lima News for some time and now I am asking you to give me some advice. (1) Is orange worn in March or is March too early to wear orange to a party or a special occasion if a few of the other girls wear them? (2) In regard to the use of lemons to soften the hands, would it have any harm to the skin of the face? (3) Is there anything a country girl can do in the evenings after school to make money?

"PRECKLES"

(1) I should think a little frock of taffeta or a dark dress of some kind would really be far more appropriate for this time of year. (2) No, I think not. Lemons are sometimes rather stinging if the skin is tender or chapped. (3) There are really not a great many things a girl can do when she is attending school and trying to do justice to her studies. Unless your financial condition at home is such that it is necessary for you to work, I think it would be wiser for you to devote most of your time to your schooling. It should mean more to you than anything else.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ramsey and O. W. Wilson motored back to their homes in Detroit after a week-end stay with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gladwell, of S. Elizabeth-st. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. W. Wilson and daughter, Mildred, who have been guests at the Gladwell home for the past five weeks.

Miss Mary Angeline Lynch, of W. High-st., welcomed the members of her card club, Monday evening. At the conclusion of the evening of playing with Miss Pauline Cjacob holding high score, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Miss Margaret McNeel, of N. McDonnell-st.

Miss Helen Johnson, of Richlie-av. is entertaining as her houseguest this week her cousin, Mrs. Besse Reed, of Lorain.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By ZOF BECKLEY.

THE REBUFF.

Violet walked to the corner again. The concierge made no reply save to apply to her sweeping a vigor that expressed disapproval of this smartly-gowned visitor who came at such an unheard of hour inquiring for Mme Dawson. If Mme Dawson went to a party and chose to spend the night with her friend Mlle. Brady, what affair was it of anyone else? Violet and the good housekeeper flicked her dust with a will.

The rattle of a taxi made her look round. It drew up at the curb, and at the same moment the lady who had come inquiring returned from her stroll to the corner.

Out of the taxicab stepped—Mme. Dawson and a gentleman! The concierge's mouth fell ajar with amazement. Surely it could not be, and yet—there was the evidence of her own eyes! She waited for no more, her shrewd wits telling her that the handsomely dressed lady was there for some ugly purpose. She didn't want to know. She gathered up her cleaning things, and went into the house.

Violet contrived to come up just as Polly was being helped from the cab by Barry.

"Well, well!" She advanced with hands extended. "Where have you two children been? I knew you'd got lost. Polly, and I came over to see if you'd come home all right. I suppose you've perfectly good alibis for this little—ah—all-night excursion?"

Polly felt frozen. She tried to speak, but her voice failed her. She looked dumbly at Barry. He swerved toward Violet. "None of your insinuations, Violet!" he said with restrained sharpness. "You ought to know better. What do you mean by waylaying us in this fashion anyhow? I don't like it."

"Neither do I like your traipsing off with Mrs. Dawson, leaving me to take care of myself any way. I could" retorted Violet. "I might ask as you do what do you mean by such conduct?" You may well make an explanation. I have every right to ask one.

Polly made a movement as if to excuse herself and go into the house. Violet turned upon her. "Yes!" she cried scornfully. "You would go on playing the innocent! I wonder if you realize that you owe me an explanation!"

Polly took breath to speak, but Barry cut in:

"Mme. Dawson owes no explanation to anyone. If there is any fault, it is mine. Perhaps I do owe an explanation. It is simple. We got separated, quite accidentally, from the others after the studio party. We searched in vain. Some turning, some suddenly concocted plan of theirs, cut us off. We wandered on, glad of a breath of air. We thought of the markets, and went to them. It's quite a usual thing to do—There's nothing suspicious or open to criticism about it. I've brought Madame Polly home—and there is our story!" He bowed to Polly. "Good night, little Queen," he said quietly, "or rather good morning. I regret more than I can say, this—this contretemps."

Polly mumbled confused greetings to them both and entered the house. The concierge was scrubbing the marble hallway. It was good to see Mme. Dubois' comfortable back, her ruddy, kindly face.

"Bon jour, madame!" Polly called, making her way into the little lift. Mme. Dubois raised an unsmiling face.

Pimples and boils

—caused by errors of diet

A well-known skin specialist says that pimples are "signal flags of danger" often indicating errors in diet.

Indeed pimples are so frequently associated with faulty habits of eating and improper digestion that the first thing to do is to see that our food is right.

Fresh yeast is a wonderful corrective food for these skin disorders. Fleischmann's Yeast is rich in the elements which improve appetite and digestion and which keep the intestines clean of poisons.

Physicians and hospital all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast for pimples and boils. It gets right at the basic cause of these complaints.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast daily before or between meals to keep your skin healthy. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

The WRONG FACE

By ISABEL OSTRANDER

"I cannot understand about those slippers, Sergeant Barry," she said. "They're—there's something wet, aren't they? I don't know how they came to be here."

"When did you wear them last?" "I couldn't say, not since I left Paris, anyway. They were frightfully uncomfortable, and as soon as I reached home I threw them out; or at least I told them to do so. I cannot understand how they came to be still here in the room and in that condition. They must have been worn out in the rain."

"Sergeant Barry," she murmured, "I am very ill. Has the coroner performed the autopsy yet? Do they know now my cousin died?"

"He paused for a moment. Should he tell her the truth and let her know how the evidence was piling up against her?"

"Miss Tudor died from inhaling a noxious gas which caused suffocation and which we believe to have been generated out in the garage here," he said slowly. "That gas was in some way conveyed to this room and administered to your cousin."

"But how could that be?" she cried. "Why was I not killed, too?"

"Oh, I understand now what you mean about those slippers! You think that I wore them out to the garage last night in all that storm and did this terrible thing! Why could someone else not have thrown them there under the lid, thinking that they would not be discovered until an opportunity came to dispose of them? Why, if I were guilty, would I leave them where they could be so readily found?"

"Why would anybody?" he countered swiftly. "Who else in this household can wear your slippers, Miss Tudor?"

For an instant, as this irrefutable fact confronted her, the girl stood staring at him as the bereft of her senses. When she spoke her voice was carefully guarded.

"I had not thought of that, sergeant, but you are right, of course. No one else in the family could have worn them; but whether you believe it or not, let me assure you that I did not wear them last night, or at any time within the past two or three weeks, and I am utterly innocent of any knowledge of my cousin's death!"

"I have brought no accusation against you, Miss Tudor," the detective reminded her. "You have identified the slippers as your former property, and tho they are wet and mud stained you assert that you have not had them on in weeks. That is the situation as it stands, and I do not propose to annoy you with further questioning. I am sorry that you are ill. Did you speak of it to Doctor Green or the coroner?"

"No. It is nothing. My head felt queer and congested, and I discovered after the excitement had died down a little, that it ached violently." She hesitated. "I've had odd fits of dizziness, too, but I am sure they will pass away presently."

"Go and rest, by all means, Miss Tudor," Barry held the door open for her to pass him.

He stuck the little slippers, all

wet and muddy as they were, into his hip pockets and descended the stairs to find the sheriff still in consultation with the bereaved mistress of the house, while the professor was walking up and down on the porch, evidently awaiting the other's pleasure to depart.

"Professor, there is something I am anxious to find out about," Barry began. "What effect would carbon monoxide have upon one who had been only rendered insensible by it, or had merely received a whiff of it?"

"Headache, dizziness and nausea are the immediate results if the victim revives," Professor Semyonov responded. "Rest and fresh air will work their own cure in a short time."

Barry reentered the house, to find the sheriff gazing with a puzzled expression at Mrs. Tudor, who was re-creating up the stairs.

"Have you discovered anything new?" Barry smiled.

"No, I haven't," said the sheriff testily. "I've been talking to her for the best part of an hour and finally I managed to get it out of her. It seems that the her niece, who is mourning for her brother that was killed at the front, wouldn't appear formally at the dance, Mrs. Tudor thought she caught sight of her on the porch. She wasn't sure, and she wouldn't for the world have us think anything against the girl, but I could tell as plain as day that she suspected something against the girl, ever tho she wouldn't admit it."

The sheriff paused for breath, and Barry demanded: "You mean that she thinks her niece overheard that talk about carbon monoxide and went directly and put it into practice?"

"Well, it would explain why Miss Fay was so affected."

It was late afternoon when Sergeant Barry returned to the Tudor estate. He went behind the garage and to the rear of the tea house.

At his approach he had discerned a slender black-gowned figure seated upon the steps of the little structure, and beside it a man with a pair of crutches at hand. He recalled the episode of the morning, when he and the lieutenant had come upon the same couple, and the young officer had disclaimed all knowledge of the stranger.

Barry crept softly around the side of the tea house until he had reached a point where he could see without being himself seen. He halted in time to hear Fay Tudor remark:

"So you see, Captain Warren, what a fix I'm in. Those slippers would be enough evidence in themselves to send me to prison, I suppose, and that silly affair with Harry Cadmus two years ago, of which I have told you, would furnish a motive. Oh, it is like a horrible nightmare! To be suspected of such a terrible crime, and that against the little cousin I loved!"

Her voice broke, as she found herself unable to continue; and again the detective marvelled. Was the girl a consummate actress, or was hers indeed the grief and humiliation of being unjustly assailed?

The captain evidently had no doubts on that score, for he took one of her hands in both of his, and she made no effort to withdraw it.

"That is what I have come to you for this afternoon, to save you from even the breath of suspicion, if I can."

"Captain Warren! There was a pause, and then she added softly: "Did I tell you the other day that I went in the locked room where he used to sleep, and where all his belongings which you so kindly brought home to us have been placed? I saw his helmet and a hand grenade and even his gas mask; but there were stains upon it! It all seemed to bring him back so closely that I had an uncanny feeling that he must be here in the flesh, somewhere near!"

Before the captain could reply Barry strode boldly around the corner, pausing in a confusion that would have done credit to an actor. "Captain, this is the young police officer from town, of whom I spoke—Sergeant Barry, Captain Warren."

The captain bowed stiffly.

"Captain Warren, I suppose you are familiar with the details of the crime?"

"Miss Tudor has told me all she knows," the captain responded thoughtfully.

"Have you any possible theory to advance? I confess I should be grateful, for this seems the most in-espissable case I have ever encountered."

"How about that chap who has been wandering about, stealing at will, without leaving any trace? I should think he was the most likely suspect, if he were mentally deranged, for this murder appears to have been such a purposeless one."

Captain Warren pondered for a moment. "To me the most puzzling part of the whole affair is how it was possible for one girl to be passed and the other escape."

"Perhaps that is the most easily explainable of all," he observed, and with a few perfunctory remarks he left them, his brain on fire with a fresh inspiration born of the chance use of a single word.

Gassed! One girl had been killed by the inhalation of noxious gas, and the other, sleeping near, had gone unscathed—and there had been a gas mask in the house!

Barry entered the house by the back way and stole upstairs.

The dimness of the room at first made everything indistinguishable to his eyes, but gradually he saw the mantel with the gas mask upon it.

Approaching, he picked up the case containing the mask, carefully to preserve any possible finger prints, and as he opened it a faint but unmistakable odor assailed his nostrils, the odor of carbon monoxide gas!

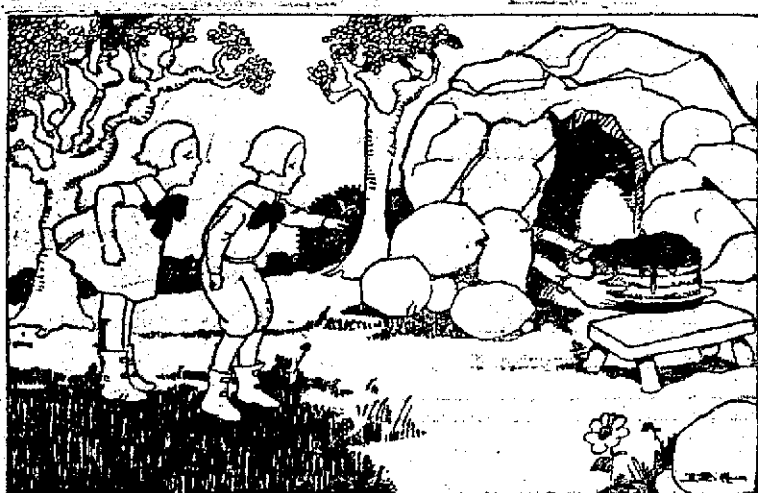

CHAPTER IX

Sergeant Barry turned the gas mask case over and over in his hands. His intuition had been right after all! Fay Tudor was innocent!

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

THE MAGIC CAKE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

large chocolate cake out to cool

A pair of hands were just setting a

As soon as the Twins left the orchard they stepped into a strange country. Not Whispering Forest or Bright Meadowland, or the low swampy place by Lily Pond, but a realm they had never seen before.

It was quite plain that the little Green Shoes tucked away safely under their goloshes were taking them on an adventure into new realms of mystery.

But then! One would hardly expect to look for Longhead the Wizard, or Diddyevers with the blue hair, or Korsknotts with the green beards, in any place one knows all about.

Right ahead was a mountain, and Nick pointed: "That's the Rubber Mountain; I'll bet you, where Nimble Toes got bounced off. If the record flew out of his hand it can't be very far away. Why, it might be around here anywhere! Let's look."

So they started to hunt. They bent back bushes and rolled away stones, poked in puddles and peered down hollow stumps, but there was no sign of a record anywhere or anything like one.

Suddenly Nick felt a slight pricking. It was not enough to hurt him, beyond any doubt; for had she asphyxiated her cousin, she need not have gone to the trouble of donning the gas mask; she could simply have closed the windows and doors, allowed the carbon monoxide to escape, and left the room until it had done its work.

As he took the mask from its case he noted that it had not been replaced in the proper manner, but had been thrust in with every evidence of haste. A careful examination revealed no finger marks upon more like the electric sparks when you comb your hair and then touch your hand to the comb.

He remembered the feather and pulled it out of his pocket. The feather was bending frantically away from a hollow stone or cave into which the Twins were about to step.

"We'd better not go in there," said Nancy. "The feather is leading us away."

Nick looked back ruefully. "No, I guess we'd better not," he said slowly, when suddenly his eyes grew round as saucers. "Oh, look!" he cried. A pair of hands were just setting a large chocolate cake out to cool.

"I Cannot Understand About Those Slippers, Sergeant Barry," the mask itself, but upon the case several were visible.

He crossed the hall to the room in which the tragedy had occurred. There he commenced an elaborate search.

His efforts seemed to meet with no success, for, shaking his head doubtfully, he entered the bathroom, where he scrutinized the shelves and medicine chests.

At last he seized upon a small pasteboard box and opened it, disclosing half a dozen white powders wrapped separately in a filmy substance resembling oiled paper.

With a little exclamation of satisfaction, his hand fell upon a tiny porcelain jar with a foreign label, and as he gingerly unscrewed the top a faint odor of fresh rose-leaves floated out upon the air.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CLUB AND SOCIETY EVENTS SHE FOUND SUCCESS IN THE WORLD'S SMALLEST STORE

MRS. ANN DAWSON AND HER SWEETS' KITCHEN

NEW YORK—The smallest store in the world—2 1/2 feet wide, 5 feet long—just about the size of a small kitchen.

It's a candy store in Amsterdam-ave, New York.

Mrs. Ann Dawson, a widow with a 10-year-old daughter, owns it.

A year ago Mrs. Dawson, whose home was in San Francisco, landed in New York, practically penniless.

Her only assets were $40, considerable courage, and her ability to make candy, jelly and cake.

She bought an electric stove, and in her one small room made candy which she sold to neighbors. It was better candy than the stores sold, and home-like.

Her name spread and she decided to branch out. The little store in Amsterdam-ave was the result.

Through its shiny window, customers could see the shelves, packed out.

Because of the Woman's Music concert at Memorial Hall Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock the meeting of the League of Women Voters and the Executive committee of the Federated clubs, which was to have convened at 7:30 p. m., will be held instead at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Sarah Shaw, of Wapakoneta, is spending several days with her daughters, Mrs. William Howell and Mrs. Clifford Shaw, of this city.

A pleasant surprise was arranged Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Mildred Rudy, who celebrated her 10th birthday anniversary. The guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Rudy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nelson, of the Bowman-rd. for the occasion.

Those present included Misses Lillian Rankin, Lois Stevenson, Beatrice Benthiger, Georgia Reynolds, Mildred Rudy; Messrs. Ray Marhart, Wilford Masters, Wilford Rankin, Everett McDonnell and Dwight McDonell.

Miss Elva McGinnis, of E. North-st., entertained the members of the Jolly Ten Embroidery club at her home last Friday evening. Music and needlework were the diversions and at a late hour a delicious two course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Anderson.

The next meeting will be held Friday evening at the home of Miss Rosa Kemmi, of E. North-st.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young girl of 19 and am engaged to a very fine young man or was until a few days ago. I have been talking for some time about bobbing my hair. One of the reasons for so doing being that my hair needs some attention because of split ends and it is very thin. My young man said to me, as the last of the hair I did so he would consider things all right. Last week I had my hair cut. It is a short bob and I am a heart-broken girl. I feel that if his love is so brittle that it will break in finding it out. Have I done the right thing?

DISCOURAGED.
YES, I think your actions were right. Your fiancé was very rude and ungentlemanly to show his temper and become enraged at such a thing. If you had had your hair bobbed simply to spite him, so to speak, that would have been very different. However, since you did it to benefit your hair, you were justified in doing what you thought best.

Most probably your fiancé will soon come to realization of how inconsiderate and insolent he has been. It is ridiculous for him to have shown such a contemptible attitude. No man has a right to domineer a girl and tell her what she shall and what she shall not do. If your fiancé's love for you is sincere and unselfish, he will return to you and offer an apology for his hasty and curt remarks. Above all things, tho, let him be the one who asks for reconciliation.

Dear Miss Smart:
I have been reading your column in The Lima News for some time and now I am asking you to give me some advice. (1) Is organdie worn in March or is March the early to wear or scandal to a party or a special occasion if a few of the other girls wear them? (2) In regard to the use of lemons to soften the skin of the face? Can you do it in the evenings after school to make money?

"PRECKLES"
(1) I should think a little frock of taffeta or a dark dress of some kind would really be far more appropriate for this time of year. (2) No, I think not. Lemons are sometimes rather stinging if the skin is tender or chapped. (3) There are really not a great many things a girl can do when she is attending school and trying to do justice to her studies. Unless your financial condition at home is such that it is necessary for you to work, I think it would be wiser for you to devote most of your time to your schooling. It should mean more to you than anything else.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ramsey and O. W. Wilson motored back to their homes in Detroit after a week-end stay with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gladwell, of S. Elizabeth-st. They were accompanied by Mrs. O. W. Wilson and daughter, Mildred, who have been guests at the Gladwell home for the past five weeks.

Miss Mary Angeline Lranch, of W. High-st. welcomed the members of her card club, Monday evening. At the conclusion of the evening of playing with Miss Pauline Calacab holding high score, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Miss Margaret McNeil, of N. McDonnell-st.

Miss Helen Johnson, of Richi-ave. is entertaining as her houseguest this week her cousin, Mrs. Besse Reed, of Lorain.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By ZOF BECKLEY.
THE REBUFF

Violet walked to the corner again, thing to do—There's nothing suspicious or open to criticism about it. The concierge made no reply save to apply to her sweeping a vigor that expressed disapproval of this smartly gowned visitor who came at such an unheard of hour inquiring for Mme. Dawson. If Mme. Dawson went to a party and chose to spend the night with her friend Mlle. Brandy, what affair was it of anyone else? Huh! And the good housekeeper flicked her dust with a will.

The rattle of a taxi made her look round. I drew up at the curb, and at the same moment the lady who had come inquiring returned from her stroll to the corner.

Out of the taxicab stepped—Mme. Dawson and a gentleman! The concierge's mouth fell ajar with amazement. Surely it couldn't be, and yet—there was the evidence of her own eyes! She waited for no more, her shrewd wits telling her that the handsomely dressed lady was there for some ugly purpose. She didn't want to know. She gathered up her cleaning things, and went into the house.

Violet contrived to come up just as Polly was being helped from the cab by Barry.

"Well, well!" She advanced with hands extended. "Where have you two children been? I knew you'd got lost, Polly, and I came over to see if you'd come home all right. I suppose you've perfectly good alibis for this little—ah—all-night excursion?"

Polly felt frozen. She tried to speak but her voice failed her. She looked dumbly at Barry. "None of your insinuations, Violet!" he said with restrained sharpness. "You ought to know better. What do you mean by waylaying us in this fashion anyhow? I don't like it."

"Neither do I like your traipsing off with Mrs. Dawson, leaving me to take care of myself any way I could!" retorted Violet. "I might ask, as you do 'what do you mean by such conduct?' You may well make an explanation. I have every right to ask one."

Polly made a movement as if to excuse herself and go into the house. Violet turned upon her.

"Yes!" she cried scornfully, "you would go on playing the innocent! I wonder if you realize that you owe me an explanation!"

Polly took breath to speak, but Barry cut in: "Mme. Dawson owes no explanation to anyone. If there is any fault, it is mine. Perhaps I do owe an explanation. It is simple. We got separated, quite accidentally, from the others after the studio party. We searched in vain. Some turning, some suddenly concocted plan of theirs, cut us off. We wandered on, glad of a breath of air. We thought of the markets, and went to them. It's quite a usual

ISABEL OSTRANDER

"I cannot understand about those slippers, Sergeant Barry," she said. "They're soaking wet, aren't they? I don't know how they came to be here."

"When did you wear them last?" "I couldn't say; not since I left home," she said. "They were frightfully uncomfortable, and as soon as I reached home I threw them out; at least I told Martha to do so. I cannot understand how they came to be still here in the room and in that condition. They must have been worn out in the rain."

"Sergeant Barry," she murmured, "I am very ill. Has the coroner performed the autopsy yet? Do they know how my cousin died?"

He paused for a moment. Should he tell her the truth and let her know how the evidence was piling up against her?

Miss Laurel Tudor died from inhaling a noxious gas which caused suffocation and which we believe to have been generated out in the garage here," he said slowly. "That gas was in some way conveyed to this room and administered to your cousin."

"But how could that be?" she cried wildly. "Why was I not killed, too? Oh, I understand now what you mean about those slippers! You think that I wore them out to the garage last night in all that storm and did this terrible thing! Why could someone else not have thrown them there under the lid, thinking that they would not be discovered until an opportunity came to dispose of them? Why, if I were guilty, would I leave them where they could be so readily found?"

"Why would anybody?" he countered swiftly. "Who else in this household can wear your slippers, Miss Tudor?"

For an instant, as this irrefutable fact confronted her, the girl stood staring at him as the bereft of her senses. When she spoke her voice was carefully guarded.

"I had not that of that, sergeant, but you are right, of course. No one else in the family could have worn them; but whether you believe it or not, let me assure you that I did not wear them last night, or at any time within the past two or three weeks, and I am utterly innocent of any knowledge of my cousin's death."

"I have brought no accusation against you, Miss Tudor," the detective reminded her. "You have identified the slippers as your former property, and they are wet and mud stained you assert that you have not had them on in weeks. That is the situation as it stands, and I do not propose to annoy you with further questioning. I am sorry that you are ill. Did you speak of it to Doctor Green or the coroner?"

"No. It is nothing. My head felt queer and congested, and I discovered after the excitement had died down a little, that it ached violently." She hesitated. "I—I've had odd fits of dizziness, too, but I am sure they will pass away presently."

"Go and rest, by all means, Miss Tudor," Barry held the door open for her to pass him.

He stuck the little slippers, all

wet and muddy as they were, into his hip pockets and descended the stairs to find the sheriff still in consultation with the bereaved mistress of the house, while the professor was walking up and down on the porch, evidently awaiting the other's pleasure to depart.

"Professor, there is something I am anxious to find out about," Barry began. "What effect would carbon monoxide have upon one who had been only rendered insensible by it, or had merely received a whiff of it?"

"Headache, dizziness and nausea are the immediate results if the victim revives," Professor Symonov responded. "Rest and fresh air will work their own cure in a short time."

Barry reentered the house, to find the sheriff gazing with a puzzled expression at Mrs. Tudor, who was retreating up the stairs.

"Have you discovered anything new?" Barry smiled.

"No, I haven't," said the sheriff testily. "I've been talking to her for the best part of an hour and finally I managed to get it out of her. It seems that the her niece, who is mourning for her brother that was killed at the front, wouldn't appear formally at the dance, Mrs. Tudor thought she caught sight of her on the porch." She wasn't sure, and she wouldn't for the world have us think anything against the girl, but I could tell as plain as day that she suspected something against the girl, ever the slipper wouldn't admit it."

The sheriff paused for breath, and Barry demanded:

"You mean that she thinks her niece overheard that talk about carbon monoxide and went directly and put it into practice?"

"Well, it would explain why Miss Tudor was affected."

"It was late afternoon when Sergeant Barry returned to the Tudor estate. He went behind the garage and to the rear of the tea house. At his approach he had discerned a slender black-robed figure seated upon the steps of the little tea structure, and beside it a man with a pair of crutches at hand. He recalled the episode of the morning, when he and the lieutenant had come upon the same couple, and the young officer had disclaimed all knowledge of the stranger.

Barry crept softly around the side of the tea house until he had reached a point where he could see without being himself seen. He halted in time to hear Pay Tudor remark:

"So you see, Captain Warren, what a fix I'm in. Those slippers would be enough evidence in themselves to send me to prison, I suppose, and that silly affair with Harry Cadmus two years ago, of which I have told you, would furnish a motive. Oh, it is like a horrible nightmare! To be suspected of such a terrible crime, and that against the little cousin I loved!"

Her voice broke, as she found herself unable to continue; and again the detective marvelled. Was the girl a consummate actress, or was there indeed the grief and humiliation of being unjustly assailed?

The captain evidently had no doubts on that score, for he took one of her hands in both of his, and she made no effort to withdraw it.

"Captain Warren! There was a pause, and then she added softly: "Did I tell you the other day that I went in the locked room where he used to sleep, and where all his belongings which you so kindly brought home to us have been placed? I saw his helmet and a hand grenade and even his gas mask, but there were stains upon it! It all seemed to bring him back so closely that I had an uncanny feeling that he must be here in the flesh, somewhere near!"

Before the captain could reply Barry strode boldly around the corner, pausing in a confusion that would have done credit to an actor.

"Captain, this is the young police officer from town, of whom I spoke—Sergeant Barry, Captain Warren."

The captain bowed stiffly. "Captain Warren, I suppose you are familiar with the details of the crime?"

"Miss Tudor has told me all she knows," the captain responded thoughtfully.

"Have you any possible theory to advance? I confess I should be grateful for this seems the most inexplicable case I have ever encountered."

"How about that chap who has been wandering about, stealing at will, without leaving any trace? I should think he was the most likely suspect if he were mentally deranged, for this murder appears to have been such a purposeless one."

Captain Warren pondered for a moment. "To me the most puzzling part of the whole affair is how it was possible for one girl to be passed and the other escape."

"Perhaps that is the most easily explainable of all," he observed, and with a few perfunctory remarks he left them, his brain on fire with a fresh inspiration born of the chance use of a single word.

Gassed! One girl had been killed by the inhalation of noxious gas, and the other, sleeping near, had gone unscathed—and there had been a gas mask in the house!

Barry entered the house by the back way and stole upstairs. The dimness of the room at first made everything indistinguishable to his eyes, but gradually he saw the mantel with the gas mask upon it.

Approaching, he picked up the case containing the mask, carefully to preserve any possible finger prints, and as he opened it a faint but unmistakable odor assailed his nostrils, the odor of carbon monoxide gas!

WHALE HUNT FEATURE IN "DOWN TO SEA IN SHIPS"

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
A high note of realism is promised in a spectacular film now being made by Emory Clifton. He was Dr. W. Griffith's assistant for nine years and, judging from his preparations for his new picture, absorbed a great deal of the Griffith idea of thoroughness.

Clifton is on his way to the Caribbean Sea, accompanied by Raymond McKee, who is to be leading man in the picture. They're going there to catch a whale, having chartered one of the oldest whaling schooners afloat. McKee is to stand in the prow of a small boat rowed by three other men. When they get alongside a whale, he is to hurl the hand harpoon into the whale. The rope fastened to the harpoon will unwind until it reaches the end. Then McKee and his crew will be treated to a ride over the bounding main until the whale gets tired and quits.

That's how the director has planned the whaling scene, and to be sure that nothing escapes him, a battery of three camera men will be installed in the "nose" of the boat.

Clifton has named his picture "Down to the Sea in Ships." Mr. McKee says he thinks that may be very appropriate, after the captain sounds the old "fuh-ah-shoo" blow.

Interior scenes will be filmed in the old Hardy House at New Bedford, Mass. It is 207 years old, and will provide an admirable setting for the unfolding of the romance, which is of early New England days.

Pearl White In a Broadway Drama—Lyric

THE old serial running goes right ahead in her new film "The Broadway Peacock" and loves, hates, intrigues and denounces with fiery passion. Whether or not you care a lot for her work in this picture depends a lot upon your general attitude toward her. We think you'll agree, however, that she is more herself in the more dramatic thrillers she has been wont to give us.

"The Broadway Peacock" is the name given the hostess of a Broadway cabaret. She is the idol of many but goes on her laundry way, refusing handsome admirers and neckties and such trifles, because she has given her love to a nice young boy fresh from college and the son of one of the city's wealthiest families. You know the formula; how the glamour, the lights, blind him to the better things of life, until he wakes up and discovers that he does not love the Peacock, as he had at first supposed.

Theo Karle at Memorial Hall

THE great American tenor, Theo Karle, will appear at Memorial Hall this evening, under the auspices of the Women's Music Club, Mr. Karle, American

The Peacock, nothing his rapidly cooling ardor and having seen him in an intimate discourse with a poor little country girl she has befriended, puts two and two together and forthwith becomes a raging tempest with but one coherent thought and that is, revenge!

After that—well it would never do to tell you the whole of it, but he informed that he does NOT get back the love of her young college boy, for which she was glad, for he is a sweet and well-meaning young gentleman and she isn't the girl you would have him marry.

Miss White wears some beautiful gowns and it was not so set on those laborious confessions of hers, would be initial at all times. The sets and effects are good and the cast is in support of the star is all that it should be.

See "The Broadway Peacock" at the Lyric and judge for yourself whether Pearl White is your favorite as of old. It'll be at the theatre until Thursday.

Faurot—"Mr. Pim Passes By"

COMING from the long Chicago engagement, "Mr. Pim Passes By," the immensely funny comedy, which A. L. Erlanger will present at the Faurot next Saturday, matinee and night, is by A. A. Milne, one of the leading English humorists of the day and it literally keeps the audience in laughter the entire evening. The plot hinges upon a chance remark made by Mr. Pim, an elderly and somewhat forgetful English professor, that sets the staid Marden family in an uproar and causes endless complications, which, of course, are happily straightened out in the end.

"Mr. Pim Passes By" was played, for a year at the Garrick Guild, for a full season in New York, first at the Garrick Theatre, then at Henry Miller's Theatre and again at the Garrick. The original players of the leading roles will be seen here. The distinguished cast is headed by the popular comedians, Laura Hope Crews, and includes Dudley Digges, Erskine Sanford, Leonard Mudie, Alison Bradshaw, Augusta Haviland, and Madeline Barr.

And then he did it 'til he threw
His hipbone out of joint.

Ever since he became prominent Babe Ruth has been mixed up in big money ventures.

For instance, he was given a check for $25,000 for his movie stunts, but he held the check so long that it was no good when he went to cash it.

RECENTLY the Cleveland club acquired Pitcher Dave Keefe, who last year pitched for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Were mention of the fact that Keefe last year pitched for the Athletics may cause some people to immediately lose interest in Keefe, what I am going to say about him.

Keefe was about to be consigned to the minors, when Cleveland stepped in and made a trade for him with the Milwaukee club, said club having title to his services.

With the tail-end Athletics Keefe can't excite much comment in the American League last year. Yet this same Mr. Keefe has a very good chance to break into the headlines often during the season of 1922.

Last year with the Philadelphia club, Keefe was what might be called as the emergency pitcher.
He did a lot of relief work and every-now and then started a game.

I don't believe there is anything
badder than relief work on a pitcher.
On a club that was going poorly like the Athletics, and doing a lot of experimenting, with pitchers in particular, it was only natural that Keefe would be called on to do a lot of relief work.

In one week last season while I was working with the Athletics, I saw Keefe in action in four games.
In a series with St. Louis in which the Athletics pitchers were being badly treated, he was in three games of the series.

With the Cleveland club Keefe is certain to be a much better pitcher.
With a club that has an excellent chance for the pennant, he is going to be fired with the ambition to devise. He is going to have plenty of confidence, because he knows he will be backed by a veteran ball club.

Keefe will cross me up unless he wins quite a few games for Cleveland this summer.

50 WILL TRY OUT FOR SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL 1922 GRID TEAM

WHEN South High School's football material caners out on the soft, springy spring grid after Easter for first practice.
Coach Ward Young will have a field of 50 try-outs to look over.

Never before has there been so much material from which to select, and Young, who is already beginning to size up the prospects, believes South will have the greatest football season next Fall in her history.

Graduation will not materially affect the football material at the institution, for there will be left over 21 boys who are undergraduates this term, and the best part of it is that eight of the regulars on the 1921 squad are available for the next team. The latter, with the classes they will be in next term, are:

Barrington, junior, left end; Williams, junior, left tackle; Berger, senior, left guard; Smith, senior, right guard; Early, junior, right end; Winegardner, junior, quarterback; Fisher, junior, right halfback; DuPere, junior, fullback.

So, with the exception of center, right tackle and left half, the 1921 eleven will be intact.

Of the 50 who will try out, 14 will be seniors in the 1922-23 term; 12 juniors, 10 sophomores and 14 freshmen. Twenty are aspirants for line positions, the same number for the backfield and 10 for ends. Following is the material, not including the regulars who were named above. The classes they will be in are named:

Left end—Bigelow, freshman; Kaffitz, freshman; Cochran, senior.

Left tackle—Long, freshman; Durnbaugh, freshman; Bedford,

Left guard—Devos, senior; Metz, freshman; Winkle, senior; Center—Frye, junior; Rutledge, freshman, and Todd, freshman.

Right guard—Lutman, senior; Stryker, junior; Albaugh, freshman.

Right tackle—Curran, junior; Shope, senior; Huber, senior;
Laughlin, junior.

Right end—L. Smith, junior; Thomas, senior; Warren, freshman, and Pearson, senior.

Quarterback—Meeks, junior; Barthold, senior; Byerly, senior;
D. Wren, freshman.

ton, freshman, and Whitney, senior.

Full back—Zurfluh, senior; Griffen, freshman; B. Wren, freshman; Cuninello, freshman.

Right halfback—Hawke, senior; Poling, senior; Witham, senior;
H. Osmon, freshman, and B. Osmon, freshman.

After the opening of practice sessions in Spring, Coach Young will devote one week to each department—blocking, kicking, tackling, etc. While they will not be as strenuous as sessions in the Fall, the sessions will nevertheless be severe enough that Young may gain an idea of the quality of some of the new stuff.

Last season's record of eight won and two lost, is still a record any school may well be proud of, but it will be distanced next Fall after he whips his new eleven into shape, he believes.

Some of the men he has on the list have more than the necessary physical qualifications. Several freshmen, for instance, weigh in the neighborhood of 185 pounds apiece, and wear No. 11 shoes!
Young has been working them at basketball this winter to improve their wind and toughen them for the grid game.

Baseball's Growth Has Reached Peak With Big
Salary Of Swat King

NEW YORK—George Wright, star shortstop of the Cincinnati Red Stockings played throughout the entire season of 1889 for a salary of $1,200. The Red Stockings played fifty-seven games that year, of which they won fifty-six and tied one, a record which has never been duplicated. Wright was the highest paid member of the team.

Babe Ruth, home run hitter extraordinary, signed on Sunday a contract with the New York American league club which will net him approximately $75,000 during the coming season. The contract is for three years with a renewal option for two seasons additional. If continued for the full five years George Harman Ruth will receive a total of not less than $375,000. These figures give an idea of the development of professional baseball in this country during the past fifty years.

AGGREGATE TWO MILLIONS

It is estimated that the salary lists of the sixteen clubs of the two major leagues will aggregate more than $2,000,000 this season. To this expense must be added ground rent, travel charges, local state and federal taxes; interest on mortgages; officers' and clerical salaries and minor charges such as advertising, ticket printing and supplies.

A study of baseball salaries over a period of the past thirty to forty years shows the steady increase which has developed from year to year. In the early seventies $1,500 was a top notch figure for a star player. At the beginning of 1900 players of similar calibre were receiving from $5,000 to $10,000 a season.

A few years later the famous Chicago Nationals infield drew the following figures:

Frank Chance, $10,000; Johnny Evers, $6,000; Joe Tinker, $5,500;
and Steinfield, $4,000.

SALARY LIMIT $2,400
Some twenty years ago the National League had a salary limit of $2,400. Ten years ago, it was said that the average salary in the major league was not more than $3,300.
Today it is almost double these figures.

In 1916, Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Nationals, testified that the salary roll for the team that year was $89,500, of which Christy Mathewson as manager drew $12,000; Charley Hezoz, $10,000 and Hal Chase, $8,000.

BABE RUTH

HT SPRINGS, Ark. — No matter what game he plays, baseball or golf, Babe Ruth takes a mean swing.

Ruth, with a number of the other
New York Americans, is here taking the baths and doing some preliminary work.

So far baseball has not been included in by Ruth to any great extent. He has spent most of his time on the golf links since his arrival.
Those who have followed Ruth around the course have marveled at much at his long drives as his home runs. Ruth is a whale from the tee, but not so good on his short game.

He explains his failure to shine on the greens by saying that he never gets any satisfaction out of hitting singles.

TAKES DON'S BOUT

Marty Reese of Middletown has been booked on the Moore boxing card at Dayton, Wednesday night with Lonnie Lynn, the boy whom Don Bowsher of this city was to meet there, tonight, but somebody threw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

No explanation was offered Bow-sher for cancellation of the fight, and W.K. Sterline, Sidney promoter who has had Don under his charge more or less, hasn't come across with the reason why.

MATCH POSTPONED

Third round of the dinner club volleyball league was postponed from tonight until next Tuesday, owing to arrangements that will require presence of players elsewhere.
League-leading Rotarians and Kiwanians will oppose each other. The former have taken six straight and the latter annexed five games and dropped one.

LIMA FEATHERWEIGHT LANDS
'20 Champ Bowls At Congress

REPEATING his speedy knockout on the last card in Lima,
R landed the well known kayo on Banta Hiatt of Marion, Ind., Monday night at Kokomo, Ind. The end came for Hiatt in less time than it did for Art Madden here in January.

Gross got his man a few seconds before the timekeeper was ready to sound the end of the first round.
He jabbed the Marion two terrific lefts, one to the chin flooring him;
Hiatt recovered after eight counts, but Gross rushed him and put across the haymaker uppercut.

It was a new experience to Kokomo fans to see such a speedy termination to one of the 1-in ten-round fights. Hiatt, being a Hoosier, and Gross a newcomer—it was his first fight in Indiana—the Marion boy was the favorite.

Thru his good exhibition, Gross has earned another fight in Kokomo and Earl Smith, his manager, will undoubtedly take his star featherweight back there within a few weeks.

HARTLEY ONLY HOLDOUT

COLUMBUS. — Grover Hartley, veteran Columbus catcher, will remain behind when the Senators leave for Macon, Ga., today. Hartley is the only Columbus holdout.

The Columbus team will use the diamonds which have been the training grounds of the Boston Braves until this season. The Yale nine also used the Macon ball park as spring headquarters.

The Senators will depart from their usual system of starting the season abroad and ending at home.
The first game of the season will come when they tangle with Milwaukee here April 12.

8 TEAMS ENTERED

COLUMBUS. — Cleveland, East
Tech, Akron, South, Springfield, Chillicothe, Toledo, Scott, Mt. Vernon, Newark and Columbus North High school basketball teams are entered in the second annual invitation tournament at Ohio State university for March 17.

GOSSIP OF
THE CAMPS

THE battery men, the advance guard of the baseball army that will invade the South, have arrived on the scene. Pitching, as in years gone by, will continue to play a big part in the winning of the pennant. Without good pitching no team gets very far.

Major league club owners are well aware of the fact. That is one reason why a special effort is always made to perfect the pitching to the highest possible degree. Some idea of the value of pitching can be gleaned from the fact that two major league clubs who are taking 40 men South each have 13 pitchers in the collection.

LACK of consistent pitching was a severe blow to the St. Louis Cardinals last year. During the first month of the race the Cardinals had only two pitchers capable of going the route. Ricker's team had trouble winning a ball game.

The pitching problem again confronts Kid Gleason of Chicago. He has two great stars in Faber and Kerr, but those two men cannot do all the work. That was proved last year.

Pitching is the big punch in baseball. From now until the opening of the season we will be regaled by stories of the bush league phenoms.

LOOP NOT FORMED

Only three of the four volleyball captains of the Y. M. C. A. business men's 5 o'clock class showed up at a meeting Monday night which was proposed for the formation of a new league.

It is an impossibility to frame the league without all present, and another meeting will be held Wednesday.

IF YOU WANT WEAR---
OF "SHODDY"---BEWARE!

Why buy shoddy "all wool" clothes when you can have guaranteed "virgin wool" fabrics made to your order?

ESTABLISHED 1858
ALL SUITS
ALL OVERCOATS
MADE TO ORDER
$24 $28 $32
MADE TO FIT

Many of the so called "all wool" clothes contain wool that has been "reworked" as high as five or six times--each reworking shortening its fibers, its strength and its warmth, and not even an expert can tell the difference by the looks.

We propose to continue our policy of requiring from our mills a guarantee that the suitings they weave for us contain no "reworked wool."

These fabrics are so labelled on the ticket that you will know they are woven of "virgin wool"--right off the sheep's back.

If you want your clothes to give satisfactory service insist on guaranteed "virgin wool" fabrics.

STOCKS AT HIGHEST LEVEL

Rail Traffic During Month of February on Increase

(By B. C. FORBES.)
NEW YORK. (Special.)

Business men will probably be interested in knowing that both stocks and bonds have reached the highest level of the year. If the stock exchange is maintaining its reputation for successfully gauging business developments months in advance, the deduction to be drawn from its recent action is that conditions are distinctly on the mend and that the improvement ought to prove fairly substantial during coming months.

This is by no means the only significant indication that recovery is gradually getting under way.

Sometimes an increase in the country's bank reserves is gratifying, sometimes a decrease is encouraging. Last week's decrease in the Federal Reserve ratio falls into the latter category. The detailed figures reveal that there was a large demand for accommodation at the principal centers where visiting buyers have been present in very large numbers. In fact, the whole statement suggests that business is picking up.

Railroad traffic during February increased materially.

Even the steel industry, another important barometer, is gradually extending operations. The improvement since the low point of last year is becoming pronounced. That prices have tended downward rather than upwards is not regrettable from the broadest viewpoint.

News from agricultural sections is decidedly more cheerful. The recovery of 40 per cent in wheat and corn prices is having its logical effect. In many parts, too, the sharp advance in the market value of hogs, supplemented by the somewhat better prices for sheep and cattle, has greatly improved the financial status of farmers. It can be safely concluded that the spring purchases of agricultural population will reflect this betterment.

Such developments as a mild rise in the price of coal, copper, coffee, sugar and other commodities, particularly commodities heretofore admittedly selling too low, all go to confirm confidence that we are on the upgrade.

A decrease in commercial failures during February should be followed by a further decrease this month.

The principal foreign exchanges again reached higher levels last week, although irregularly set in when intimations came that the British premier was threatening to resign unless more generally supported by the parties forming his coalition government. Lloyd George, however, is a statesman of unmatched astuteness and it would not be safe to act on the assumption that his enemies will get the better of him at this stage.

At the moment little attention is being paid to the impending Geneva conference, but in highest circles hope has not been abandoned that something tangible, something really constructive will be achieved when leading statesmen of Europe get together next month.

Our own financial community was at first perturbed over the latest hybrid plan proposed at Washington for the payment of a bonus to C-soldiers but analysis of the proposal convinced the financial community that it was impracticable and that, therefore, stood very little chance of being carried into effect.

Another Washington incident aroused the interest of the financial community, namely an emphatic request by the state department that it be consulted before any further foreign loans be floated in this country. In some quarters it was feared that the state department's stand might affect one or two loans about to be offered, particularly the $27,000,000 Argentine government loan, but investigation revealed that the administration had been informed of this financing and that it had offered no objections to it.

From what I can learn the Government's insistence upon being consulted about loans to foreigners is not seriously objected to by the majority of high grade bankers. They figure that neither the state department nor any other government's interference is likely to forbid the issuance here of any loans which would be of distinct advantage from this country's point of view, but that, on the other hand, the time has come when irresponsible lending to foreign interests should be stopped.

All indications are that the first week of April will find conditions a little better than they are in the first week of May with witness some further betterment in industry and business. What the security markets may do, however, is another question, in view of the extent of the advance already recorded.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ELIDA MAN ON THURSDAY; INTERMENT AT SIDNEY

Funeral services for William H. C. Monroe, who died Sunday night at the home of a son, Carl Monroe, in Dayton will be held Thursday at 2:30 a. m., at the family residence in Elida. The body was accompanied to Elida, Monday evening.

Rev. G. F. Boroff, pastor of the Methodist church, in Elida, will officiate. The body will be accompanied to Sidney where interment will be made. Members of lodges of Masons and Odd Fellows of the Shelby county will conduct ritualistic services at the grave.

Monroe, with his widow, were en route home from a winter spent in California. They stopped in Dayton for a visit with their son. Monroe was stricken with pneumonia there and died soon afterward.

STOCK MARKET IS LESS ACTIVE

Selling of Oils Centralizes Steadier Tone of Rails

NEW YORK. — Prices were firm at the opening of today's stock market, but irregular reactions soon set in as a result of profit-taking. Consolidation Gas, the feature of yesterday's stock rally, closed one point after making a fraction gain. Motors and independent steels, especially, Willys-O'Peeland preferred, Chandler, Studebaker, Colorado Fuel and Gulf States steel forfeited large fractions to one point. Tobacco and food specialties were supported, the sugar group showing especial strength. Selling of foreign oils notably General Asphalt, unsettled the market within the first half hour.

General Asphalt lost 2 3/4 points in the early reaction, the preferred declining five points. Other foreign oils and some of the domestic issues also gave way moderately and reactions among motors and rubbers were more extensive. Gas shares cancelled only a small part of yesterday's gains and steels rallied on announcement of price advances by one of the largest Pittsburgh producers. Pressure against International Paper, Phillips-Jones preferred and National Enameling preferred was offset by strength of United Fruit, Central Leather preferred and Tobacco Products preferred. Dealings in rails were light and irregular. Call money opened at 4 1/4 per cent.

The closing was firm. Recurrent selling of oils, motors and kindred issues centralized the steadier tone of rails and standard industrials in today's less active and more contracted stock market session. Sales approximated 675,000 shares.

DAMAGE ASKED IN SUIT

Damages in the sum of $4723.52 are asked of the Lima Mattress company by the Mucogee Manufacturing company, Columbus, Ga., in a suit in common pleas court. Holding up of an order for ticking and final refusal of the mattress company to accept shipment, according to the petition, caused decrease in the price of the goods, for which the Georgia company seeks redress in court.

CHICAGO. — Wheat underwent a material setback in price today during the early trading, sellers having an advantage because of an unlooked for decline at Liverpool. Besides, crop reports from the southwest were of a favorable character. Fields which had appeared dead were reported as showing a noticeable revival. Opening quotations which varied from 3-4 to 1-5-8 lower, with Ma. 1-4-2 to 1-4-2 3-4 and July 1-2-0 1-2 to 1-21 were followed by a moderate further drop, and then something of a rally.

Corn and oats went downward in price with wheat. After opening 1-4 and 3-8 to 1c lower, May 63 3-4 to 64, the corn market continued weak for a while and then recovered to some extent.

Oats displayed independence of other grain. There was said to be liberal export demand in oats at the Liverpool market. Besides, the opening ranged from 1-4 off to a like advance, May at 41 1-8 to 41 1-4, but sharp gains ensued for all deliveries.

Slight upturns in the value of hogs were promptly reflected by the provision market. WHEAT—The closing was unsettled to 1-8 to 2 net lower, with May 63 1-4 5-8 to 1-4 7-8 and July 1-1-0 1-2 to 1-2-0.

CORN—The close was steady at 63 and 1-2 to 1c net decline. May 63 3-4 to 63 7-8.

STOCK AND GRAIN GOSSIP

The copper industry is good. Demand continues good from domestic as well as foreign consumers. While most producers continue to hold to 13c for March and April shipments, there are indications that March can be obtained at 12 7-8 cents, delivered—Dow-Jones.

Kelly-Springfield regular six percent preferred stock dividend declared.

Rather sensational advance in Consolidated Gas Monday was a stimulant to a moderate degree. A few specialties were also prominent on the upside, but on the rally a liberal volume of offerings made their appearance. There seems to be a greater desire in conservative circles to realize profits on part of long holdings of stock at favorable opportunities.

Broomhall's cable on the Liverpool wheat opening showed it to be unchanged to three-fourths higher than Monday's close. At noon it was two pence lower than Monday's close. The 3 p. m. cable indicated it was two and one-half lower from the previous close and the close was three and three-fourths lower.

There were many stocks for sale Tuesday morning, especially in the motors.

Dow-Jones says Endicott Johnson in New York City is running full time and turning out 118,000 pairs of shoes daily.

Chandler Motor Car Company directors met in Cleveland Tuesday to act on a dividend.

Early weather reports Tuesday indicate there is no moisture over the Southwest. It is generally clear and cold. The West is clear and cloudy. Some rain in the Ohio Valley and Southern Indiana. It is snowing hard in Chicago and vicinity. Topeka wired good wet snows. Fields that appeared dead are coming to life.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN ROUGH CHAPPED HANDS

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orinud White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents. Shake well and you have a quartet of humbles and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red rough or chapped hands. ## THE LAUNDRY DRAIN REVEALS WHAT WASH-DAY RUBBING DOES TO YOUR CLOTHES.

Next washday after you have let all the water run out of the laundry tub, peer down the drain and see what is there.

Bits of lint, tiny fuzzy balls, little roughed-up threads. You've noticed them often—did it ever occur to you what they were? Particles of the materials that make up your clothes. And you yourself have worn them off rubbing the clothes on a wash-board.

Now there is a way to remove every bit of dirt without injuring the material in any way.

Soak your clothes in Rinso suds. This new kind of soap is so rich in pure cleansing ingredients that it gently loosens and dissolves all the dirt. There is no hard rubbing, no wear and tear on the clothes—nothing to break or even weaken the fabric.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

This Man Was Helped John Grab, 2539 Jackson-Ave., New Orleans, La., writes "My kidneys were weak and I had a soreness and dull pain across my back. I felt dull and languid and my kidneys didn't act right. I began taking Foley's Kidney Pills and they soon put my kidneys in a sound healthy condition." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Tonic in effect, quick in action. Chas. J. ## The Truth About the "Flu"

How To Ward Off and Prevent Infection

The 1918 epidemic of influenza showed that the disease was one easily contracted, it is limited to human beings, it is due to micro-organisms, yet it is not a fatal condition will not cause the disease—don't worry.

Disease Transmitted The causative agent of the disease is given off from the nose and mouth of infected persons, and gains entrance through the nose and mouth of persons who contract the disease. There is never any way in which the disease is transmitted.

Cold "Flu" and Pneumonia Germs multiply by the billions and are liable to overpower your physical resistance.

Do not neglect the slightest cold—here the greatest danger lies—that "simple cold." Kill that cold quickly. It is of vast importance to clean out the entire intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels. Keep the kidneys well flushed, and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience Has Taught The experience of the 1918 epidemic showed that one of the best and simplest treatments in many instances was to stimulate the entire blood circulation by taking a steaming hot cup of Bulgarian Blood Tea with the juice of half a lemon.

This stimulating hot medicinal Tea is pleasant to take and starts the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys throwing out the bony poisons, thus increasing the physical resistance to overpower the dreadful germs. Bulgarian Blood Tea is a pure herb medicine of rare power for old and young of either sex and should be in every home as a necessary first aid remedy. Physicians and druggists everywhere highly recommend it.—Adv.

WHAT CRITICS SAID LAST SEASON

The Louisville Herald—"Triumph is achieved by Victor Artists." Nothing more obvious and, at the same time, nothing more accurate than to speak of the concert given Friday evening by the Eight Famous Victor Artists as a record breaker for that is what it was. In the good understanding established from the start between the entertainers, in the neutral intimate and familiar character of the selections, in the prompt response evoked, there has been nothing to compare with these very capable and conscientious men. All were taken to the hearts of a demonstrative audience that could be satisfied with nothing short of triple encores.

The Courier-Journal—"With the benevolent expression of one who recognizes his master's voice, the Victor dog looked out from the rear of the Auditorium stage last night and surveyed as large and well pleased an audience, probably, as has ever assembled for a concert in that hall. It is true they were overworked, the Eight Famous Victor Artists, who were so generous with encores that the program was about four times as long as that announced, but the performers took it as a matter of course—perhaps they are used to it. To designate chief favorites is hardly possible in view of the fact that encores were the rule and not the exception."

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true." Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other about them. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sold on merit.
